LET US GET BUSY

The fact that on Tuesday evening six families, consisting of about thirty people, arrived in this city from Oklahoma, with the intention of locating permanently in this city or valley, goes to show what those from the outside, who have been fortunate enough to learn of the advantages which this valley offers to the man with a family, think of our representations. All of these thirty people, consisting of all ages, from tottling babes to matured men and women, are of a class that forms the backbone of the country, hardy and industrious. News of the splendid climate with which this valley is blessed, together with the belief in its future prosperity, have induced these people to decide to locate here. If thirty arrive on one train, it is certainly a good start, but, with the proper amount of energy exercised by the people of this city and the valley, how many more good and substantial citizens could be induced to stop here and investigate the prospects of this valley? At the present time a stream of immigration is flowing from the Atlantic ocean to the fertile slopes of the Pacific. The stream passes through this city. Why should we not go to work and appropriate part of this immense stream so as to make our valley more populous and richer? Why not take advantage of the opportunity and take out an irrigating ditch from this stream of humanity so as to enrichen and make more beautiful our county? The productiveness of the land in the Grande Ronde Valley is undisputable, and where it is cultivated, it is made "to blossom like the rose." Few are the agricultural products that can not be successfully raised in this valley, but there is room for more people of the right class. The only thing needed is to have every acre of its productive soil cultivated, and, for this reason, we need more solid, sound, homeseeking people to assist in bringing out its full resources. The way to do this is to get active; be up and doing. We should not "hide our light under a bushel," but we should make it a point to "let it so shine," by informing people who do not know, that they too may be benefited by our knowledge. Resting secure in the thought that we are getting along nicely, that we are happy and that we are satisfied, we think not of attempting to assist others on the outside of informing them concerning the advantages this valley affords. We ought to get busy; we ought to advertise our growth and prosperity to the whole world; we ought to exert ourselves, rouse from our apathy and get good people to assist in making this valley a perfect garden spot, for in this manner we will benefit ourselves as well as those who locate here. It is a fact, and one of which we should be proud, that the class of people who are settling in this valley are good, substantial homeseekers. A majority of them bring money with them to invest, and those who do not, bring with them a determination to work and make a home for themselves and family. This is the class of people that makes countries great, and this is the class of people that we want.

The recent rains increased the wealth of the valley by many thousand dollars, yesterday's snow storm put a few more figures to the already fair sized total. Let the good work continue.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Linctum to the throat.
Mrs. A. Viet, New Castle, Colo., writes March 19th, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c, 50c and $1. Newlin Drug Co.

"I have been troubled with liver complaint and poor blood, and have found nothing to benefit me like Herbine. I hope never to be without it.
