SECOND DAY OF CONFERENCE

The evening session of the Conference yesterday was devoted to the paper of Prof. H. J. Hockensberry "How best maintain hold upon the youth of the church." Prof. Hockensberry's years of experience in public school work and, along with this his years of christain experience in church work, permitted him to deal with this subject from a practical and not a theoretical standpoint and showed that he was abreast with the demands of the day by the christain youth.

TODAY'S WORK

The forenoon session decided that the next District Conference would be held at Joseph, Wallawa county.

Rev. A. Eads, for about fifteen minutes opened the eyes as well as the ears of not a few of the younger men by a description of the early days of Methodism on the Pacific coast. As he came here in 1844 and grew up with the church, the conference was getting information from one of the history builders of the church.

A paper prepared by Mrs. W. T. Wright of Union was read by Mrs. Walker on the "Elements of success in Sunday school." Mrs. Wright's many years of experience in such work naturally resulted in a very interesting paper.

Geo. L. Cleaver, assistant cashier of the La Grande National Bank, read a paper on "Tithing." One of the prominent ministers passed his opinion at the conclusion that this paper, while short, covered the subject from every standpoint in the most practical manner that he had ever heard it presented. It was unanimously voted to have it printed in the Pacific Advocate, the official paper of the church.

D. L. Rader, D. D., editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, of Portland, was present and as the Observer representative was asked by nearly every one present if he had the Dr.'s talk on Sunday School, we soon became convinced that we had certainly missed a grand opportunity.

The afternoon services were largely attended. As on the previous day nearly all took their lunches and enjoyed the social hour. The afternoon was devoted to the closing work.

THIS EVENING

Rev. L. W. Chandler delivers the address this evening to be preceded by a song service.

A Great Meeting

The State Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America closed last night at Baker City with a magnificent banquet. The representative from this county, as well as those from the other camps in the state, are loud in the praise of the entertainment and attention shown them by the Baker City members. Nothing was left undone by the Baker City people to make the the visitors have an enjoyable time, and as is usual when Baker spreads herself, the attempt was a complete success. A special car from Portland, bringing the delegates from that place and others along the route, passed through this city last Tuesday morning. The Portland Camp had with them a splendid band, this being the only organized band of Modern Woodmen in the state. The special car was met at North Powder by the Council of the Baker City camp, who distributed among them the badges for the meeting. At the depot in Baker City, they were met by the Baker Degree team and other members of the camp, beside a large crowd of spectators. From this place they marched to the hall to the step of martial music. All of the visitors were then assigned to lodgings and placed under the charge of some home man for entertainment. A short session was held Tuesday afternoon in which some business was transacted, and the meeting then adjourned for the day. On Tuesday evening the visitors were treated to a social entertainment at the opera house where they were entertained by music by the orchestra, the White Swan band, the mandolin club and several select solos. The camp met in convention again Wednesday forenoon at ten o'clock and such business was transacted, including the election of officers and delegates to the National convention. H. G. King, of Forest Grove, was elected state Council; U. U. Dakin, of Hood River, was elected state clerk; R. W. Foster, of Portland, O. S. Mount of Baker City, and F. A. Baker of Salem, were elected as delegates to the national convention which will convene in Milwaukee on the first Wednesday in June. The alternates for the delegates to the national convention were W. T. Vaughn of Portland, C. T. Colt of Summerville, and David Lynch of Eugene. Ashland was selected as the next place for the state camp.

Good Showing

Compared with one year ago the outstanding county warrants have been reduced $68,000. On March 31, 1904, in round numbers they were $224,000. On March 31, 1905, they $156,000. It will not be many years like this until Union county will bear the proud distinction of being out of debt. There are several such counties in the state.
