TO THE LOVERS OF ROD OR GUN

Last fall an organization was effected, called "The Eastern Oregon Fish and Game Association", for the purpose of systematically stocking our good trout streams with new fish each year and assisting in every way possible to enforce the present laws regulating the taking of fish and game.

We take this way of reporting to those interested in these sports what we have been able to accomplish to date.

Mr H G Van Dusen, state warden, paid us a visit in the fall and urged our support in an effort to get a $10,000 appropriation for the Wallowa fish hatchery to make of it a trout as well as a salmon station.

Through the combined efforts of those interested the bill passed and the funds are now available for the work, and the plans and specifications are now in our hands awaiting bids for the building which is to be finished in September.

We have ordered from the U S Fish Commissioner, Rainbow, Eastern Brook, Black and Mountain trout for many of the streams in this part of the state, and have every reason to believe that we will be liberally supplied as all our applications have been endorsed by our Senator at Washington and passed to the Commissioner in proper form.

The following streams are included in the applications and the distribution will be carefully made by our organization.

Catherine creek, Ladd creek, Looking-glass, Cabin creek, Five Points, Beaver creek, Jordan creek, Spring creek, Meadow creek and the Grande Ronde river.

We have sent out notices and written numerous letters about reported violations of the law, with good effect and we respectfully ask your support, if this work meets with your approval.

A receipt from Dr C T Bacon our treasurer, for $1.00 will constitute a membership for one year, and the money will be used to continue the work now begun, as outlined in this letter.

Let us hear from you if you are interested.

Yours for better sport and better sportsmen.

Descriptive Letter

St. Paul, May 10

The Evening Observer,
Dear Sir:

After two weeks of sight seeing and running around over the country, will give you some of my impressions of the middle West.

I have been across Eastern Washington, Idaho, Montana, N Dakota, Minnesota and a part of Wisconsin.

I have seen some splendid country, but a great deal of country that is almost worthless. There are some very slightly places, some rich and beautiful valleys in each of the states named. But nothing to compare with Oregon and the Grand Ronde valley.

I stopped first at Fargo North Dakota for three days. Fargo is one of the prettiest towns I have seen. They take a great deal of pains with their streets, it has a population of 30,000 and is the principal city of North Dakota and is the principal distributing and shipping point for the state. For the last week we have been making our headquarters in St Paul and Minneapolis. These are two splendid cities, offer many side trips that are interesting to the travelers. I had the pleasure of spending one half day in the state capital, it is said to be one of the finest state capital buildings in the Nation, cost 5,000,000,000 and is certainly a great credit to the state.

There are many expressions of stability and prosperity in all the towns I have come through there are improvements in buildings, streets and lawns. The western cities are putting up more new buildings generally speaking than the east. But the Eastern cities out strip us in good streets, lawns and home decorations. Let La Grande come to the front.

I leave here for St. Louis May 12, will stay there until May 22 and if I have time will try and send you some of my impressions of the South land. Then I will turn my face westward to find where rolls the Oregon the greatest state in the Union.

Resp. yours, J Franklin Day

A VERY PERTINENT REPLY

At a recent committee hearing on the bill designed to legalize and regulate the practice of Osteopathy in New York State, an allopathic doctor produced a section of lamb. Osteopaths, he said, claim to be able to move bones and he dared one of them to come to the front and change the position of any bone in that section of the lamb a fraction of an inch. The proposition was such a ridiculous one, the lamb being dead, that it was ignored. It was found afterward, however, that this crude bluff had actually carried some weight with people ignorant of Osteopathy, and it is for this reason that we print a letter that appeared immediately afterward. Although signed with initials only, there is reason to believe that it is from the pen of Dr. Charles E. Flook, a prominent member of the Osteopathic profession in New Jersey. It seems to send the proposition back at the medicine like a boomerang and we give it just as it was printed in the New York Sun:

AN OSTEOPATH'S RETORT

To the Editor of the Sun—Sir: The report of the hearing given at Albany yesterday on the bill to regulate the practice of osteopathy states that the principal argument of the opposition was made by Dr. Robert T. Morris of New York city, and that he created a surprise by producing a cadaver and challenging the osteopaths to demonstrate the merit of the school to which he belongs. U E F
