AGAINST

Portland June 26-Harry Robertson, formerly Senator Mitchell's secretary, was the star witness of the promorning. He stated that he had seen Kribbs repeatedly in Senator Mitchell's private office, and many times also in Mitchell and Tauner's office He said that he had seen the Senator go over the books of the firm contain ing the payments from Kribbs. The witness described his being supposused white in Washington to appear halore the lederal seand inve in land. He said that, before leaving, he had been instructed by Senstor Mitchell to tell the jury that Tanner had received all the fees received by the firm for practice before the Federal Departmente, and that Judge Tanner would instruct him what to swear as Mitchell said he considered any means justifiable to use in his defense. Arthur Orton, a clerk in the Mer chante National Bank, testified regarding the Mitchell and Tanner acsount and identified checks and books Judge Tanner was on the stand again and modified the statement made yes will go first to Cambridge to attend torday of Mitchell writing hundreds of letters similar to those written in Kribbe case for his constituents. He qualified the charge as being too liberal and said that the Senator wrote a number of such letters. In the osees against Congressmap J N Williamson, Van Gessner and Marion R Biggs, who are indicted for conspiracy to obtain Government lands fraudulently, the demurrare were overruled and the cases set for trial next Monday. serve lands, the demurrer was over-

Both from a spectator's and player's standpoint it was as good an exhibition of the national game as one would ask to see, "Slate" Taylor for the visitors and Dowling for La Grande were invincible from the first man up until the last man was retired in the ninth in-

The game was won by the fast work of the home boys on the bases, and the way they supported Dowling, not an error being made

The feature of the game was three fast double plays, made by the home team, each of which came just at times when it looked very much as if the visitors were sure to socre.

Although defeated, Hot Lake is not discouraged, for they certainly know and play the game, and yesterday was their first defeat of the season.

Manager Heisner will endeavor to bring Hot Lake here for a game next Sunday If to enceeds in doing so, no doubt one of the largest crowds ever seen on a La Grande ball field would attend. The score by inning.

Get Real Perfumes

The art of making perfumes is so complicated that few master it. It is easy to make an odor that will seem desirable when smelled from the bottle; but to give the odor permanence and the quality of remaining sweet and unchanged on the handkerchief requires skill that few perfumers possess. It is the maker's name and not the name of the odor that
