ed to the Chamber of Commerce where they were met by Governor Herrick and Vice President Fairbanks.

With fitting ceremonies, yet with marked simplicity, the body of the late Secretary of State, John Hay, was today laid in its last resting place in Lake view cemetery at eleven o'clock a m. Short services for the dead were begun in the sanctuary of the Wade memorial chapel. In the chapel were assembled the little company of distinguished mourners. Mrs. Hay, widow of the late statesman and diplomat, and her son Clarence occupied the front bench to the right. To the left sat President Roosevelt, Samuel Mather. Other relatives were near Mrs. Hay. Vice president Fairbank and the remainder of the company sat well in the rear of the chapel while the silent company was thus assembled the Rev. Hirman C Hayden, D D began offered a prayer which was followed by a hymn by a quartett. Dr A B Meldrum, the late Secretaries pastor then read a passage of scripture which was followed by another hymn and a prayer and the services were ended. A squad of troop, A Ohio National Guard bore the casket down the aisle followed by the chief mourners, and the Presidents cabinet which acted as honorary pall bearers. The President accompanied Mrs Hay to the carriage.
