The special train of fourteen cars of the big Southern Carnival company will arrive here Sunday night, Aug. 13, and the 200 attaches will get busy installing the multifarious shows and amusement features.

The Nat Reiss Southern Carnival Company who will furnish the attractions need no introduction to the amusement loving public of this city.

This year they present in their Grand Stadium more features than any circus. Among the attractions to be seen therein is Si and Tan Fukino Japanese head and foot balances, Shone family, comedy acrobats, Hammett & Stone cycle whirl riders; Schoon, the human fly; Diavola, who loops the loop and many others.

The Electric Theater, Crazy House, Sorchos Deep Sea Divers, Coon Town 400, Great Ferris Wheel, Peggy from Paris, Riding Camels, Lunette and many others.

Possession of Child

Judge Eakin is today hearing the case wherein the possession of a child is in question. The evidence seems to show that several years ago Fred Newell let his mother have his little son and the trouble all seems to have originated over the contract made at that time. The grand mother thought she was given sole possession of the child for all time to come, and a few days ago she started to leave for the state of Utah and took the child with her, but upon reaching Huntington her journey was suddenly stopped by being arrested and she returned to this city, consequently the action at law to determine who is the lawful guardian of the little boy who is now about eleven years of age.

Narrow Escape

John Bohl, a lineman for the Grande Road Electric Co., may and does consider himself very fortunate in being able to even partially tell how it happened. While cutting in some wires, he in some manner, unknown to him, came in contact with the two wires that carry the 2300 volts from the power station to this city and the current passed through his body quicker than a flash. Although it was some time beyond a burnet hand, Mr. Bohl is uninjured.
