Kolb and Dill

Will be seen in popular bualque at the Steward Opera House.

Kolb and Dill will make their first appearance in this city since their return from Australia, Monday Aug 21. They are supported by an exceedingly strong Company of their own selection, which includes several popular artists under the special engagement to them. The program for Monday Aug 21 is a revised and brought up to date edition of Judson C Brunsie's musical eccentricity, "I. O U" which affords them one of the best vehicles they have ever had for a full disposal of their great varied ability.

Official Visit

Geo. Pollock, chief of the special service department of Washington and E W Dixon, chief of the special agents who reside in Oregon, with headquarters in Portland, spent the day yesterday with the register and receiver. This is Mr. Pollock's first visit to the coast and he is visiting most of the land offices in California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Utah.
Both gentlemen returned to Portland last evening and paid the officers of the La Grande Land Office a high compliment on the efficiency and business like manner in which they transacted their work.

Not a Democrat

This office was subjected to a thorough cleaning out this morning.
The editors were thrown out in the street almost, and ordered to never again so far forget their duty to the ace as to insinuate that Recorder Snook is now, or ever was, or ever will be a democrat. After the whirl wind had passed the city Judge explained that he did not object to being called a democrat so far as he himself was concerned, but that hundreds of the leaders of the party had called at this office and demanded an explanation, and an emphatic denial on his part. They did not care to have all the sins of the Republican party dumped upon their shoulders in any such manner. As Mr Snook had never been a democrat in all his life and as the democratic leaders would not receive him now under any consideration he called at the Observer and asked to have this correction made.

The east bound passenger train was delayed four hours this morning by a slight accident to the baggage car, which made it necessary to place it on the rear end.
