

CONFERENCE ENDS AT BAKER CITY

Pastors for Coming Year Given Their Positions

REV. H. H. MOWER FOR HERE

The Idaho Methodist Conference has closed its annual session and the reports (which have not yet been tabulated) makes one of the best showings for years.

One of the changes made necessary by the new condition will result in La Grande from this time on having a resident pastor, and Presiding Elder J D Gillilan will give his entire attention to the district which was made still larger at this session.

A strong effort was made at conference and before to retain Rev. Gillilan as pastor, as the members of the church regretted very much indeed to lose him. This the Bishop would not listen to. However, La Grande will not lose him as he will make his home at La Grande for the next year at least.

Rev. H H Mower, who for the past two years has been pastor at Nampa, Idaho, has been assigned to La Grande and comes highly recommended as an exceptionally strong man.

Sunday morning the large church was crowded beyond its capacity to hear Bishop Wm. F McDowell, of Chicago. Bishop McDowell is really more noted for his executive ability than as an orator, still his sermon Sunday morning was such as to leave a lasting impression upon all who were fortunate in hearing him.

He means by this statement that one hundred and sixty-three dogs have city tags on their collars. If you value the dog you had better buy a tag.
