Grande Ronde Mines Commence Operations

J. L. Corbett Leavs With a Load of Provisions

WORKING PLACERS

J. L. Corbett and son Roy left this morning for the Camp Carson mining district near the head of the Grande Ronde river, with a load of provisions and will remain there to develop a number of mining claims Mr. Corbett has.

A great deal of activity is about the camp and a great deal of work is being done in opening up new ledges and developing older ones.

Mr. Corbett will devote his energies on the Royal mine. A shaft 105 feet in depth will be driven into the ledge for the purpose of ventilating and preparatory to do a large amount of stoping. Altogether he has 1100 feet of tunneling and other work done on this claim. Two miles farther up he has another very promising claim, the Standard. In this claim he has 200 feet of development work.

The Muir mine, which was recently purchased by outside capital is being shaped up ready to work on a large scale. A great deal of machinery will be put, such as steam hoists and placers to enable proper work to be done. In the near future a smelting plant will be installed in the district which will enable the miners to do their own reduction. The placer claims too, are receiving a great deal of attention. The Carson Placer Mining company has a force of men at work and are cleaning up quite a lot of yellow metal. J. W. Grassy also, is getting good returns from his placer despite the shortage of water this season.

With the promise of the Grande Ronde Lumber company running their logging road far up the river the mine owners of the upper district expect to reap the benefit of it. Cheaper and more prompt transportation will be afforded them and with the material at the upper end and a ready market at this end they expect to do business on a large scale. With plenty of ore in sight and transportation the upper Grande Ronde mines will equal any in the eastern part of the state.

A Pleasant Party

It was a happy thought that led Mrs. U. G. Couch to entertain the "Old Folks" committee and a jolly crowd that chattered a hack and drove to her lovely home in Island City, Friday morning, Aug. 18 to spend the day. Having been promised a regular "blended dinner" the party, naturally fasted for some time previous and were therefore able to do ample justice to a sumptuous repast prepared and served by Mrs. Couch.

While the reporter was promised a faithful account of the day's proceedings, he is also reminded that it is sometimes wiser not to tell all one hears and sees, suffice to say they were delightfully entertained and all too soon came the cry of "all aboard" for home.

Each bade the hostess adieu, feeling that she had gathered up a generous patch of sunshine "along the way" Those from La Grande were Mrs. J. D. McKennon, Mrs. J. W. Scriber, Mrs. J. D. Slater, Mrs. James McCoy, Mrs. L. D. Reavis and Fred Schilke.

Beside Mr. Couch's immediate family, there was also present Miss Hamilton and Miss Couch of Missouri, and Mrs. Couch of Elgin.

LA GRANDE SCHOOL OF MUSIC

PROF. DAY, Principle.

MRS. DAY, Assistant

This is one of the best musical institutions in the state. During the year 1904 there were nearly four thousand lessons given. The people in this city and valley are beginning to discover the great advantage of this school. The system used is the latest and most practical, and includes all the latest discoveries in the art of teaching music. The school is divided into two departments; No. 1 is for beginners, from 5 years up, and taking in the last to 3rd grades. In this department pupils come one hour every day. In No. 2 the grades are from 3 to 15. Here they graduate. Pupils take one or two lessons a week as they desire. No scholars will be permitted to remain in this school who do not study.
