Released Pigeons

J A Whitby this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock released four homing pigeons which he brought up from The Dalles this morning, from in front of the Observer office for the birds to return to their home. The pigeons belong to Samuel Wilkinson, of that city who raises them as a hobby and who watches them with interest in making these flights. The birds when released from the box, flew close to the ground to the south for a few blocks then circled and wheeled to the west going directly towards The Dalles. They made another circle higher up to get their bearings and then disappeared over the hills west of the Gangloff place going directly towards their home.

One of the birds was brought to the city about a year ago and made the flight although it took him two weeks to make the journey. Others have been taken to Baker City and Kamela and released, both making the trips in a much shorter time.

FOREST FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Sunday afternoon while the storm was at its height, a forest fire destroyed the home and contents of Mr. and Mrs B J Montgomery who reside on their homestead about seven miles northwest of this city. At the time the fire reached the home, the family were out fighting the fire and attempting to save their property, but the gale was so strong that they were unable to contain the flames, and barely escaped with the clothing which they wore. They lost everything including their wearing apparel. The family consists of Mr and Mrs Montgomery and a little girl two years old and a boy four years of age. As the family has lost all that it possessed in the world with the exception of a few cords of wood and their team, they are in a rather sorrowful plight, and persons having clothing suitable for the little folks, which their own children have outgrown, will find that Mr. and Mrs Montgomery will be pleased to accept the same. They are now with Mr. and Mrs. W F Hendricks, where they will remain until Mr. and Mrs.
Hendricks return from the exposition.
Donations in the form of clothing for the little ones or for Mrs. Montgomery can be sent to the Hendricks home at the head of Main street on Elder street, and will receive a hearty welcome.
