San Francisco, Sept. 8.—As the Japanese society of this city is planning a monster mass meeting next week to protest against the action of their government in sanctioning the Portsmouth treaty, the police intend to keep a close watch on the proceedings, fearing that the speeches to be delivered that night might stir up the little brown men to do something desperate.

Tokio, Sept. 8.—At Kobe last night the Statue of Marquis Ito was dragged through the streets after being hauled down from its pedestal.

Scripps News Association.

Rome, Sept. 8.—Earthquake shocks in the provinces of Calabria, in southern Italy, which is subject to earthquakes, have caused the death of one hundred lives and four towns have almost been entirely wiped out. The greatest damage is at St. Faction, near Acconaban, where it is reported that a great many people are buried in the ruins and almost every house in several villages have been destroyed.

RUSSIAN CITIES RUINS

Scripps News Association.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—The streets of Badu and Shusha are strewn with mutilated bodies and dozens of towns are burned, the inhabitants massacred and hungry women and children hiding in caves. Former Governor of Caucasus, now an aide to the Czar, says the war between Russia and Caucasus will be harder to end than the former rebellion because formerly the Armenians aided the Government are now divided. The uncivilized Tartars, Georgians and Armenians are against the civilized Georgians as Miisky. Reforms were advocated several months ago and had they been granted the trouble would have been averted. Winter quarters for many Cossacks have been provided in the village surrounding Tarskoe Selo and a close guard will be maintained about the Imperial palace.

Myrick, editor of the Free Press, District Attorney McGovern, Assistant District Attorney Cochems, Special Assistant Giff, H. A. Uppham, J. H. Tweedy and others for conspiracy to ruin him. He accuses not only libel but declares they secured an indictment of larceny charge intending to let the cloud hang by never bringing the case to trial. Couldn't Spare Him

By Scripps News Association.

New York, Sept. 8.—E. D. Randolph, treasurer of the New York Life Insurance company, was a witness before the legislative committee today, explained how Vice-president George W. Perkins got $30,000 a year until 1900 when his salary jumped to $75,000, because Morgan wanted him in 1901 to join the Morgan firm. Rather to lose him entirely the New York Life paid him $25,000 for special services in an advisory capacity. He also explained many details of the salaries of high officials and said that the list submitted of the salaries of the officers were correct. No lists of the minor officers were submitted.

Randolph said W. E. Ingersoll, vice-president in charge of the European business receives $20,000 annually. E. R. Perkins, the 3rd vice president, admitted to be the brother of G. W. Perkins. Randolph explained the details of handling the finances of the company. He said the sub-committee consisting of Perkins, Woodbury, Langdon and Randolph were given the task of making investments. He said the company generally became one of the parties of the new syndicates but they frequently disposed of securities at a profit.

Scripps News Association.

Goldfield, Sept. 8.—What is pronounced by mining experts to be the greatest discovery of gold in the history of mining has just been made at Bullfrog on the property of the Bullfrog Extension Mining company, adjoining the scene of the first discovery in that district. The ore assays 82 pure gold, the nearest approach to this discovery being in the Isabella mine in Cripple Creek which assayed 70 per cent. One piece of rock brought in weighed 30 pounds through which a seam of gold could be seen with the naked eye. It is from one eighth to one fourth of an inch in thickness.

ARE ON BETTER TERMS

Scripps News Association.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—I was announced this morning by Manager Nolan representing Nelson, that the side bet of $10,000 has been declared off and that the purse will be split on the forty sixty per cent basis. The announcement caused great surprise to the fans as it was assigned in the articles that for the $30,000 the winner should take all. Judging from the advance seat sales, the loser's end will be a small fortune.

Britt acknowledged that Nolan told the truth when each accused the other of being responsible for the change of article. Britt says he was obliged to consent to the changes or there would be no fight. Nolan said that rather than disappoint the public he consented to make the change at Britt's earnest request. Nolan departed for the Nelson camp this morning without seeing Jeffries but he still insists that the forfeit deal be deposited to insure a square deal on the part of Jeffries but admits that he might accept Jeffries after a conference.

CROWDS ARRIVING.

San Francisco, Sept. 8. Despite the uncertainty created by the squabble over a referee, every train is loaded with fight fans. The arrivals from the east are greater than when Jeffries and Corbett fought here. They had started before Nolan issued his anti-Jeffries ultimatum and brought their wads with them, but when they had "wised up" to the situation they changed their minds about betting and as a result the pool rooms are not being worked to death. The record of the wagers remain the same—10 to 7.

Throngs of visitors visited both camps but there was a small crowd as neither man did anything other than light limbering up. One of Nelson's early visitors was George Flier, the veteran referee and critic, who looked the Dane over and pronounced him in perfect condition for fight. Nelson took a light jog on the road this morning and later did a little shadow boxing.

Britt's program was practically the same. This afternoon Sher visited him also. The fighters will be up early tomorrow morning and after a short walk will weigh in. Neither will partake of food until that ceremony takes place which will be at Harry Corbett's place.

Nelson figures on being about two ounces underweight and Britt expects to weigh under 133 pounds by one pound.

JEFF ARRIVES

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Jeffries arrived last night from Los Angeles and this morning said:

"I never back out of any proposition and will not change this time. There's nothing left for me to do but to act as referee and I'm going to do it. The public and the two principals will get a square deal at my hands. This afternoon I will see Britt and Nelson and come to an understanding with them as to the rules under which they will fight."
