HIGH TENSION OF MODERN LIFE

President Roosevelt in his inaugural address said that "modern life is complex and intense." "Stressful" was his former definition, which he made so popular that it became a classic like Mr. Cleveland's "innocuous desuetude." Mr. Roosevelt is right. Modern business and social life are "both complex and intense" and under the strain of living one's muscles, ligaments and nerves may get keyed up to a degree of tension such that there is no unlocking them in the brief time afforded for rest. People get so tired they can't sleep. How many people know as well this modern feeling of tension? Drugs give no respite from it, but also the tired body cries out in its stress for any artificial support, either stimulant or sedative, drug habits are easily formed at such periods, if one indulged persistently. There is but one treatment that will relax this high tension of modern life and that gives its patients prompt, adequate, natural and wholesome rest from the first treatment—Osteopathy.—It is usually regarded as a sovereign cure for sleeplessness.

Lady Of Lyons

The play last night entitled "The Lady of Lyons" was greeted by an appreciative audience and every part perfectly sustained. Charles Mortimer as Claud Melnotte was especially good carrying his difficult part with grace and ease. Miss Swain also was deserving of special mention. Tonight the western drama, entitled, "California" will be played tonight. On account of the great amount of scenery to be shifted the matinee this afternoon was not given.

Explorer's Route

Wardner, Idaho, Sept. 16.—Darwin Egan, Andy Goddard and George Hallick, all of Wardner, left yesterday for Great Falls, Mont., where they expect to build them a boat and start down the Missouri river for St. Louis. After spending a short time in St. Louis they will proceed down the Missouri river in a boat to New Orleans and will go from there to Mexico to spend the winter. From where they will strike the Missouri river their route will be the same as that traveled by Lewis and Clark on their journey to the coast 165 years ago. They will hunt and fish all along the route and will proceed leisurely along their destination, which they expect to make in about three months' time.

FOR RENT—Two modern cottages for rent. Inquire of J. D. Simmons O St near Seventh.

At The Courthouse

Suit was filed by Geo. L. Cleaver against Mary Wietse and Wm. Wietse to recover $450 and interest from June 1904.

A writ of habeas corpus has been filed to release Ben Duffy of Cove. The young man was brought before the Cove justice of the peace and fined $10 for throwing filth in a stream. He refused to pay the fine and was ordered incarcerated in the county jail for five days.

Suit was filed against the Willowa Railway and John Miller and Mary Miller by the O. R. & N. as a result of the plaintiffs' loss of watches. The plaintiffs ask for an assessment for damages which result to the rights of way and the payment of the damages assessed.

An injunction was filed yesterday by Arthur Thrall and others against A. J. Gale enjoining him for hauling away for a certain mill and selling or disposing of lumber at that mill. They also ask for some $300 damages and cost of the action. The suit comes from the defendants who were employed in the mill and who filed mechanic's liens for their pay.

Fires Out

The fires have pretty nearly burned out in the mountains above town. It took heroic work to put it under control but the settlers at last succeeded. —Union Scout.
