Mrs. Lee Dunham of Baker City is in the city visiting Mrs. J. F. Howell.

W. K. Davis, proprietor of the Crescent Knitting Mills, left for Portland last night on a business trip.

Frank Paddock, who until a few months ago was in business in this city but who just moved to Union a few weeks ago died there this morning. He was a member of the La Grande lodge of Elks and quite a number of the members will attend the funeral which will take place there tomorrow.

Register E. W. Davis of the land office, returned from Spokane last night where he has been attending the meeting of the Shriners.

A. A. Roberts returned home last night from Pendleton where he went Sunday morning to accompany Mrs. Roberts who will visit with her sister, Mrs. T. W. Ayres, who has just returned from the Durk mines where she has been for the summer.

Strong and stirring is the plot of "Uncle Josh Perkins" and the latest successful drama. It pulsates with vitality and is entirely original in theme and story. Perhaps that is the reason of its unprecedented success, Steward's Opera House, Monday 16.

Synod Closed

The Presbyterian Synod closed Saturday afternoon. The next annual meeting will be held at Newport on the coast if satisfactory transportation rates can be secured, if not it is to go to Portland.

The visiting brethren were delighted with the entertainment received while here. Rev. Hayes is to be congratulated for the clever manner in which he provided every detail as naturally this part fell entirely upon him.

Don't Forget

That all the members of the cast and chorus of Queen Esther are requested to be on hand in the gymnasium of the Commercial Club at 7:30 sharp this evening, when rehearsals will be commenced again with renewed vigor.

Unique Spot

In the village of Altenburg, on whose borders three countries meet, there are no soldiers, no police, no taxes, and its people are ruled by no monarch. The inhabitants speak a queer jargon of French and German combined, and spend their time cultivating the land or working the valuable calamine mine, which is the boast of the village.

Osteopathy

Thoughts Of Famous Men

"When in the future an estimative intelligence sums the great discoveries of the nineteenth century, I believe that the Science of Osteopathy will be given a place near the head of the list, Opie Beld

"If the founder of Osteopathy, Dr. Still, does nothing more in this life than what he has done to relieve the suffering of women, his name will go down in history as the greatest physician of any age and one of the benefactors of the race."—Mrs. Senator J. B. Forsaker.

"All our curative agents are poisons, and as a consequence, every dose diminishes the patient's vitality."—Alonzo Clark M. D. College of Physicists and Surgeons, New York.

"I am more or less familiar with Osteopathy and have a deal of respect for it. Most certainly nobody ever dies from the hands of an Osteopath; neither do they poison folk and in one or two instances I have almost imagined they performed miracles."—Elbert Hubbard, editor of Philistine
