IDAHO LAND FRAUD

Scripps News Association
 Moscow Idaho Oct 24—The land fraud trials were called before Federal Judge Beatty this morning with Wm Kottenbach, George H Kester and Clarence Robnetto, of Lewiston and William Dwyer of Clarkston, Wash, accused of conspiracy. All four pleaded not guilty and asked for a speedy trial. The court gave the district attorney until tomorrow to set the date of the trial. The federal grand jury is being impaneled and will continue the investigation of the land frauds. Kottenbach and Kester are well known bankers of Lewiston and were identified in alleged timber steals of that state.

CANCEL ENTRIES

Boise, Oct. 24.—The government today instituted proceedings to cancel 14 timber entries in Boise and Washington counties on the claim that several quarter sections of land, fraudulently involved, have already been transferred to the Butte Land Investment company. It is said that these are the first of a large number of fraudulent entries to be unearched and it is expected that a large number of criminal prosecutions will follow. Several entrymen have left for parts unknown to avoid prosecution.

SPEED OVER STATES

By Scripps News Association
 Ogden Oct 24—The Harriman special arrived here this morning at 11:23, making the run from San Francisco in 17 hours and 50 minutes. The engines were changed here in two minutes and the train started east at a record breaking pace behind one of the fastest engines in the service. The said that he had a good time in the foreign lands but refused to discuss matters relative to insurance and declined to make a statement about being left off the Rio Grande Western directorate. He smiled and said, "Everybody knows why that was done. Alice Roosevelt, who was with our party, came back happy and rosy and said that she had had the time of her life. The gift business was mostly fake. She had a few trinkets, that's all. She was glad to get home and is happy because her father is having such a good time in the south."

TEDDY ADDRESSES NEGRO STUDENTS

Says Students Must Lead Their Race to Enlightenment

Scripps News Association.

Tuskegee, Fla., Oct. 24.—The President reached the grounds of the Tuskegee institute after a brief stay in this place where he was received by the mayor and other prominent citizens and great crowds of country people, both black and white. The President was received by Booker Washington at the institute and driven to the office building in a carriage built by students, driven by students, and drawn by horses raised by students. He viewed the educational and industrial parade and was driven hurriedly about the grounds and shown the extent and scope of the work. He was then taken to the chapel where a short program preceding the President's address was given.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Tuskegee Ala Oct 24—The president in addressing the negro students at Tuskegee Institute said to the white population as well as the black, that it is of the greatest importance that the negro should be encouraged to make himself a higher type of usefulness. Within two years the industrial operations of the south have so increased that a scarcity of labor is evident everywhere and that it is wisdom for all those who wish to make themselves prosperous to help the negro to become useful to himself and to the community in which he lives.

"It is necessary to train every available man by developing his intelligence," said the president and to increase his skill and capacity with a conscious effort. The mercantile avenues to success are overcrowded for the present and the best chance for success admits only the more intelligent workers of some mechanical trade or on the farm. Ignorance is the costliest crop that can be raised and every dollar put into education, white or black, yields rich dividends to a community.

"It is in the interest of the white man to educate negroes but despite all the white man does no permanent good will come to you save as you develop the capacity for self help. You young men and women of Tuskegee must lead your fellows toward sober, industrious and law abiding lives.

IN MONTGOMERY

Montgomery Ala Oct 24—The President arrived from Tuskegee at noon.

He was met by Governor Jelks, Mayor Treagle and Judge Gaston and thousands of citizens who gathered to give him a welcome. The President's carriage was followed from the station by Cossacks fired into the mob.

a military para through banks of people to the capitol where he spoke. The welcome to him was more than a perfunctory civility and was most enthusiastic and cordial. The president was gallily decorated in honor of his visit.

Will Not Open

Scripps News Association
 Butte Mont Oct 24—The opening of the Flat Head reservation will not take place until the spring of 1907, a year later than was at first expected. The delay is caused by a clause in the bill which overlooked providing for an appraisement and classification commission which has a year in which to report after the Indians have been allotted.
