TO THEATRE GOERS

There are a few words that the Observer desires to say in regard to several practices to which the theatre goers of this city are addicted. The first, and which is the greater evil, we wish to say that the behavior of the "gallery gods" is most disgraceful. For instance on Wednesday at the performance of Queen Esther, when a number of the most respected ladies of La Grande attended the theatre and sat in the gallery, a hood-lum who was also there smoked a cigarette between one of the acts. Others rolled their cigarettes, and, not daring to smoke them, had them ready to light as soon as they were in the hall.
It seems almost incredible that a human being cannot restrain himself long enough to be gentlemanly during a short theatrical performance even if he cannot be during the remainder of the time. Another practice of the gallery attendants is that of lining the railing in front with their feet. Feet are made to walk upon and not display to the players on the stage. Perhaps if the hats were taken off as in any other public hall the manners would be improved upon.

So much for the gallery. If you ever have noticed that just before the curtain is rung down on the closing scene, many of the people in the dress circle commence to don their wraps.
Besides creating a great deal of confusion the view of those who are so unfortunate as to be behind them, is cut off and they must miss the closing scene.
The management of the opera house never has closed the doors until the audience is all out and it is not probable that he will until all are out. So don't hurry so.

Another fault, which is not so glaring, is the lack of appreciation in a La Grande audience.
An actor can play better if he thinks the people appreciate his efforts and how can he tell whether he is appreciated or not if an audience sits dumb without applause at his efforts.
Warm up. It costs nothing to clap your hands if you like the play and if you don't, why, just throw a turnip at the actor.

There could not be a more attractive line of entertainments offered to the amusement loving public of La Grande than the list planned by the lecture association. The price of admission will be but 30 cents to those who buy a season ticket and as many of the entertainments will be worth 50 cents and a dollar each, the course is a bargain.

The welcome that President Roosevelt is receiving in the "solid South" shows how a truly great man is appreciated. Perhaps there is not a more popular man in the world than Theodore Roosevelt. He has gained his popularity by his honesty and integrity and because he is just a plain American citizen.

Money did not make him great but hard work and study, coupled with brains made him what he is.

your order. We don't say its impossible to get it elsewhere. But we do say that we buy from a party who sells us all his product and he raises that it is possible to raise. Give us a
