Oregon Stands Second In Agriculture

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—While Oregon was hardly expected to make very much of a showing when pitted against Eastern States in the competition for awards in the department of agricultural and dairy implements, yet the returns made public yesterday by Director of Exhibits Henry E. Dorsch, show that this state took second place. Illinois comes first with a total of 18 awards, all but one of which are for gold medals. Oregon received 14 awards, 11 of them gold, two silver and one bronze. New York takes third place with ten awards, nine of them gold and one silver.

The rest of the awards are scattered among exhibitors in a dozen states. California took seven awards, all but one of them for gold medals; Kansas and Ohio received six awards each, but Kansas gets the best of it by having five gold medals and one silver against three gold and three silver held by Ohio. Michigan secured two gold medals, Iowa five, Pennsylvania two, Vermont, Indiana and Missouri one each.

Bourne Power Line Nearing Completion

Haines, Nov. 8.—Mr. Lawson, not Tom but "Nick," who holds the responsible position of superintendent of the work of constructing the Rock Creek Power and Transmission company's line of the ex-transmission Co.'s line of extension to Bourne, came over the mountain from Bourne to Haines on horseback on Wednesday while J. D. Herron, one of the teamsters on the work, came around by Sumpter and Baker City. The line has been constructed from Bourne, this way, over the summit and the force of forty-two men is now working from the summit this way. The men are divided into three camps which are now being established along the line as convenience directs. Mr. Lawson says that the construction of the line over the summit, a distance of seven miles, has been easy sailing and will be easily completed by December first. He says the line is being constructed so substantially that when completed it will require little repair. The poles used are 45 feet in length, thus providing against excessive snow and the smallest in use are eight inches thick at the top. The wire used is number four, two sizes larger than that ordinarily in use and the insulators are the largest and strongest made.

ELECT THIS MONTH

Washington, Nov. 8.—Christian Hagur, charge d'affaires, ad interim, of Norway, in an interview published today, discussed the coming election to the Norwegian throne by referendum vote.

"According to latest accounts, I think Prince Charles of Denmark will be elected to the throne and will accept," said Mr. Hagur. "The election will be held Nov. 12, on which day voting will occur throughout the country, but as many places are remote, without wire connections, the vote will not be counted for perhaps a week afterwards."

It probably would be about the first of December before the prince would ascend the throne and perhaps several days would elapse before the reorganization could be completed.

Circus Train Wrecked

Houston, Tex., Nov. 8.—Campbell Brothers' circus train was wrecked near Temple, Tex., and nearly all the animals escaped to the woods. Something akin to a panic prevailed in the rural districts.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up toward the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Buckle's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at Newlin's Drug Store.

Watson's for November

The editorials in Tom Watson's Magazine for November are notable for their variety and incisiveness. In the loosely connected paragraphs entitled "Editorial Comment" all Mr. Watson's pungency of phrase and shrewd humor are lavished on such distinguished personages as J. P. Morgan, Chauncey M. Depew and several presidents of life insurance companies. The story of "The Montana Copper War"—T. A. Hickey—is concluded, presenting an astonishing revelation of the way the courts of justice are run in the copper state. Other articles are "The Status of the Negro"—Joseph H. Parsons; "The Real Danger in American Politics"—J. Samuel Fowler; "Export Losses"—Flavius J. Van Vorhis; "Get the Axe"—W. H. T. Wakefield. A most amusing parody is "Pensive Pigs; The Story of Amalgamated Pork," by Ellis Parker Butler. Other short stories in the number are "A Modern Comedy of Errors"—William MacLeod Raine; "The Suiciding of Brutus Less"—James Howard Graves; "A Woman You Know"—Eleanor H. Porter; "The Black Hole of Calcutta: A Vision"—W. D. Wattle; and the usual installment of "Pole Baker," Will N. Harben's dramatic story of Southern life. (Tom Watson's Magazine, New York, 10 cents.
