Business Transacted on The Portage Road

Salem, Nov. 11.—The governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, as the board of control of the portage railway at Celilo, held a session at Salem Wednesday to hear the monthly report of Superintendent L. S. Cook, who was present, and to attend to business connected therewith.

From the report it appears that during the month of October there were 7,363 sacks of wheat transported over the road and $7.75 in passenger fares collected. The earning capacity of the road at present is about 50 per cent of the expense of maintenance, and the prospects are, Mr. Cook says, that there will be such an increase of business in the near future as will bring the receipts well up to expenses. A large amount of materials will be needed for jetty work at the mouth of the Columbia and also for the extensive improvements projected on the north bank of the river all the way down from Celilo, and the greater part of it will necessarily be handled over the portage road. Superintendent Cook says the road will be of greater advantage and a heavy money-saver to the shippers and growers of Eastern Oregon, as it is the means of a substantial reduction in freight charges.

Rabbitville Sage Writes to Irrigator

You orto see her! We mean the new waitress at the Bunco! Is she swell? Has she got style? Does she wear good clothes? Echo answers yay, verrily and you bett. Why if she smiles on a dish of taters they are instant mashed, and the vinegar turns sweet if she even looks at it. I aint sure where she comes from, but if I can manage to shake that Honeybottom lobsterett I'll see if this peach wont continue to remaine indefinite in Rabbitville. My hart yerns for a damsell like that what can make her own livin' and mebbe help a feller out a little besides. Them Honeybottom girls looks on work with scorn.

A sheepherder came to town to see Doc Standpatt last Sunday p. m., havin' a orful pane in his stummick. He says says he between gripes and grones, dock be I dyin' or what aies me? Dock looks him over and says to him how much munny you got? and the feller says six $ and dock says you got the bellyake, but if you'd had 25 or thirty dollars it would be appendesetus and I'd have to cut you open, but with only six $ about a spoonful of iodum will make you as good as new. And the six now reposes in dock's jeans.

We've got a new barber. He's not litterly speakin' bran new, but he's new to rabbitville. Our other barber lit out one nite last week for parts unbeknownst leavin' a lot of unpaid bills, the biggest one bein' dew to the city drug store for perscriptions. This new barber calls hisself a tonsorial artist and he's not doin' much bizness, our citizens bein askeart he's only took a coarse in tonsorial art by mail. Our folks is gettin' prretty crittike now on barbers for we've hada mitey tuff deal in that line, and there is now talk of organizen' of a S. P. C. B. E. meanin' a society for the prevention of cruelty by barbers.

That feller Honeybottom is about the meanest man that ever draw'd breath. I called on his slabsided dawter a phew times, mebbe 40 or fifty. Sometimes we sot in the parlor; sometimes in the settin' room, or kitchen, or if I went late I'd get on the porch or front gait. And now that old raskil brings in a bill agin all of us for entertanein' of us and lettin' us make googoo eyes at them phreak girls. He has a regular skeddule of rent inclosive of the company of one of the girls, 10 cents for the kitchen, 15 for the settin' room, 2 bits for the parlor, 20 cts for the porch and 35 for the gait privilege, and 5 cents a half hour extra after 10 at nite and Sundays double all day. My bill is $17.20 but none of us wont pay without a lawsuit.

Osteopathy

Digestion depends upon two factors, motion and digestive fluids. These in turn depend upon nerve and blood supply for their activity. The nerve and blood supply of the stomach in dyspepsia are interfered with by displacement of the bones of the spine and ribs, and by the contracture of muscles. These are the first and primary causes of dyspepsia. Dietetic errors are causes of dyspepsia, but are secondary the others. The cure dyspepsia involves the correction of these displacements. Correction of diet aids the stomach in recovering after the displacements are removed. Osteopathic cures are real cures and permanent, because the primary causes of the trouble are removed.

The administration of pepsin, hydrochloric acid, silver nitrate, strychnine and other drugs is not curative, but merely palliative, and soon aggravates the defective conditions already existing. Drug giving is therefore uncertain, unscientific and injurious.

These are the two views of dyspepsia. Think over them and take your choice.

Division Superintendent Connelly left this morning for Huntington on business at that place.

Colonial Dinner

The handkerchiefs are especially attractive and besides these a fine line of home made candies will be on sale. These articles are all suitable for Christmas presents. Come and see the display and get a good meal for 25 cents. Supper will be served at 5 o'clock. There will be music in the evening and a pleasant time for all.
