PARENTS AND TEACHERS

Do you know that the health, happiness and progress of hundreds of children is hampered by weak eyes?

Pendleton, Or., Nov. 1, '08
To the public:
Owing to constant headache, dizziness and nervousness, my daughter Hazel was obliged to be out of school a great deal during the last winter and early spring. As the glasses she was wearing failed to give her any relief, I took her to Dr. F. B. Dayton. The glasses he gave her had the desired effect. After a short time she suffered no more from headache nor dizziness, and her nervous system repaired rapidly. The good results have proven permanent and we are well pleased.

SOCIETY

PUPILS' RECITAL

The first recital of the series that will be given by Mrs. Lyle's pupils, was held at Mrs. T. E. Buehler's residence, corner Second and Main. At this event Miss Bessie Buehler received a certificate for having completed the Catherine Burrows Method for pianoforte. The first number on the program was a piano solo: "Chase of the Butterflies," by Heine, which Miss Bessie rendered in a most creditable manner. Other numbers were given by Hulda Anderson, Laura Holm, Helen Richardson, Zoe Bragg, Vernon Davis, Runa Bacon and Gertrude Ralston.

The Lyle Musical club meets tomorrow afternoon.

ENTERTAINS YOUNG PEOPLE

Miss Gertrude Crandall entertained the Juvenile Y. P. Club at her home on Saturday afternoon. Social games were the feature of the afternoon until four o'clock when the little people were invited into the dining room where a dainty repast awaited them. A pleasing feature was a music box hidden beneath cushions which played "Sounds From The Vienna Woods" during refreshments. As twilight approached the guests departed, each expressing themselves as having passed a most enjoyable afternoon.

Relief and Cure

Do these terms mean the same? In many minds, yes. "Relieve me from my suffering," cries the patient. "I will give you relief," saith the doctor.

But what about cure? Drugs will overcome nearly all symptoms. An anodyne will dispel pain, digitalis whip up a weak heart, a laxative move the bowels or a diuretic spur on the kidneys.

If the cat yells when you step on his tail, don't move the foot, but give it morphine. If your horse is weak, whip him. Foolish, you say? Is it any more foolish than hiding a pain with morphine or opiates, or spurring up a heart, bowel or kidney that is weak?

Is not the better policy to look up the cause of weakness, remove it and give the parts their natural nerve and blood supply? This is what the Osteopath does. This is why the Osteopath is curing so many old cases that medicine has been spurring up, so long to relieve.

Many Thanks

I take this means to publicly thank the person who stole the baby dress from the St. Peter's Guild bazar last week and so kindly took the trouble to send the same to me through the mail. Many thanks. For the benefit of those interested, I will state that the little dress has been returned to the Guild.
