LA GRANDE VS PENDLETON

The La Grande High School basket ball cam has everything fully arranged to defeat the Pendleton High School team aturday evening. Of course, the Pend eton team may be just as honestly considering the size of their victory, and they may win, but the chances are against them. The girls are all well up in the game and those who delight in basket ball should not fail to attend. There will e pienty of seats and room (or air.

Those who enjoy a lively sparring contest will have an opportunity tomorrow night of seeing about as lively a bout view. Two well known sparring artists will go twenty rounds at Steward's Opera House: Seats are now on sale at Jay Van Burens, $1.00. The contest will start promptly at eight o'clock.

Gale In The Channel

Dover Nov. 28-A terrific gale prevails in the channel. The gale is the severest that has been experienced in the past three years. The Admiralty pier is partly submerged and the London boat train has been unable to reach her pier owing to the huge seas which are hurling masses of shingle across the rails. The cross channel service is suspended.

Schools Close

The La Grande public schools and the Sacred Heart Academy close their schools on Wednesday afternoon and wil remain closed the rest of the week. Both schools will have appropiate exercises

The history of the order, viewed in the light of its subsequent wonderful growth. is more than interesting. It was originalso tightly bound around victory that no ly known as the "Independent Order of ordinary team will ever be able to untie Good Things," and was at time composed the knot. Win or lose, the game will be of H. L. Leavitt with six other members. a good one, and well worth the time and The first meeting was held at Moran's Lumber company, February 14, 1898. Three months later the name was changed to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the honor of having chosen the name belonging to John Coert. This first meeting was held for the purpose of giving a benefit for the New York Journal fund for the aid of the Maine victims. At this meeting, was held the first election of officers, and H. L. Leavitt was chosen as the first past worthy president.

The first grand lodge meeting was held and the permanent organization was th n effected. The new lodge was then known as Seattle Aerie No. 1, F. O. E. From that modest beginning, about seven years ago, the order has grown until today as the most discriminating would care to there are more than 1,000 lodges and something more than $00,000 member in good standing. The Seattle Aerie his shown the same phenomenal growt'. From a little lodge of seven members meeting whenever the opportunity offered. they have now grown to a membership of 2,258, with cash and real estate to the amount of $40,665.90, and this in addition to the fact that since the order was started they have paid out in salaries and expenses the sum of $17,490.05, and in sick benefits $32,310.90.

Mr. Leavitt has ample documentary evidence that he was one of the original seven, his certificate from Seattle Aerie shows that he is the first past grand worthy president of the order and in acdition to those facts has a souvenir which establishes the assertion still further. This is in the shape of a handsome and valuable gold Eagle charm, studded with diamonds, and embellished with the insignia of all the other many orders of which Mr. Leavitt is a member in good standing. This is inscribed, "Presented to H. L. Leavitt, First Past Grand Worthy President Seattle Aerie No. 1, F. O. E. Mr. Leavitt is a member also of the following other fraternities: Masons, K. of P. M. W. A., B. P. O. E., Foresters, T. P. A., and the Actor's Society.

In "Happy Jack," Manager U. D. Newell presents a character here who will win for Edward E. Kidder's play, "A Jolly American Tramp" an enviable reputation when that comedy success is presented at Steward's opera house, on Friday December 1. No more quaint conceit has been offered the play-going public. yet underlying all the bombastic pretentions that are made by the tramp, there will be found a heart that is in its right place. Flashes of wit fall from the lips as gently as do the raindrops in a summer shower, and touches of pathos illumine the pathway to duty of this hero in rags, that simply appeal to that well spring of emotion, the heart. in every one of his beholders. In "A Jolly American Tramp" the author has given us a new character creation, one that will live as long as the other creation of his, Sol Smith Russell's "A Poor Relation." Manager Newell has staged this play in a commendable manner and promises thrilling effects as well novel situations. The cast is said to be an admirable one and will do justice to the piece. Seats for theatre or box parties can now be reserved.

Successful Run

F. S. Bramwell, of La Grande, left last night for his home after a short business visit in Portland. Mr. Bramwell is the secretary of the La Grande sugar beet factory and was in Portland in relation to the marketing of the season's output. The La Grande factory has just closed a very successful year and the management expects a great increase in business during the season of 1906-Portland Oregonian.
