FINE CHICKENS

A number of Grant county poultry-men have entered upon the experiment, bound to prove successful, of raising thoroughbred chickens of the most approved breeds. For some time Mr. Peter Kuhl has been making a specialty of Brown Leghorns, which seem among the best breeds for wide ranging on the farm. Another hardy breed of almost incessant layers is the Black Minorca. This breed has received some attention at the hands Mr. W. H. Johnson, but he has never gone into the business of producing thoroughbreds in that line.—Grant County News.

IS SAUSAGE NOW

Now more will a faithful Fido joyously greet his master with waggings of his tail or mournfully bay at the new born moon, for, this morning in the exuberance of his joy and playful friskiness, he attempted to scare this morning's passenger off the track at the depot. The train did not care, and poor Fido is no more. When last seen he was being ignominiously trundled off in a wheelbarrow by a Jap section hand.

TRYING WATER SUIT

Judge Eakin is in Baker City trying the case of Gardiner et al vs George Wright. The case is one involving certain water rights in Washington gulch.
