INTERVIEWING A BISHOP

Smart Boston Reporter Has Talk with Noted Clergyman—Man of the Cloth Nonplussed.

During the triennial conference of the bishops at Boston the archbishop of Canterbury, the guest of Bishop Lawrence, had a hard time avoiding the ubiquitous reporter, even though his host stuck to him closer than a brother. In one newspaper office a prize was offered for an interview with the archbishop, and consequently his lordship was more than usually laser upon every hand by the men of the lens and pencil.

On one occasion the archbishop, after service, wishing to avoid the press of reverend gentlemen crept up into the loft of the church, known as "the lepers' gallery," and was there found by Bishop Lawrence, after a hard hunt, lying on his stomach across a bench, and watching the proceedings through a chink in the panels, so rapt, satisfied and undisturbed that the bishop let him remain there.

A little later they left the meeting ahead of the crowd and started down the line of carriages toward the bishop's own. It started to rain, but, nothing daunted, the archbishop suggested that the walk home, as their carriage was nowhere to be seen. A square or two further on some one rushed after Bishop Lawrence and drew his attention toward a carriage where a lady was beckoning frantically—one whom he recognized as a chief charity worker of his parish. "Excuse me one moment, your lordship," said Bishop Lawrence, and leaving his guest standing at the curbstone hurried to the carriage. Suddenly a dapper young man hurried forward and said, politely: "Pardon me, sir, but may I stand under your umbrella till my car comes along?"

"Certainly, my dear young man," said the archbishop, blandly, and then engaged a conversation lasting till Archbishop Lawrence returned, during which interval the stranger gave the young man an off-hand impression of America in general and of Boston in particular, the latter showing his gratitude by offering his card, with the name of a prominent newspaper in the lower corner.

The archbishop glared for a moment, then laughed outright. "Interviewed at last," he said, taking his host's arm. "Don't leave me on the street corner again, please. It isn't safe, even in cultured Boston."

Best Day.

A celebrated aeronaut asserts, after a patient investigation, that the ninth day of the moon is the most rainy of the whole 28, and four o'clock in the afternoon the rainiest hour of the day.

MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

Forty years ago, Dr. Pierce searched Nature's laboratory for a remedy with which to supplant the ignorant and vicious methods of treatment, with alcoholic stimulants, then in vogue, and still too commonly prescribed and advised for women's peculiar ailments. Nature abounds with most efficient remedies, and in Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root, Dr. Pierce found medicinal properties, which when extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure glycerine, have proven most potent in making weak women strong and sick women well. It contains no alcohol; is not a "patent medicine," nor a secret one either.

"I was suffering with nervous headache, pains in the back and dizziness, so that I could not lie down for hours before I could raise my head," writes Mrs. Mary M. Thomas, of 351 Winston Street, Los Angeles, Cal. "After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription,' however, I was so pleased with the results that I kept on taking it until I was restored to health and strength. I shall never be without this great medicine, and shall take a few doses when I do not feel strong."

One of the principal uses of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the preparation of prospective mothers for the time of trial and danger that comes when a child is born. The "Prescription" is strengthening and invigorating and lessens pain and danger. It insures the perfect well-being and the perfect health of both mother and child. Every woman should know these things before she really needs to know them. There are many things in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, that every woman ought to know. This celebrated work reached a sale of 650,000 copies at $1.50 each. The expense of production having thus been covered, it is now being given away. A copy will be sent to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't Be Hoodwinked, hoodwinked, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago, and called Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They've been much imitated but never equalled. One or two are laxative, three or four cathartic.

Saved By Dynamite

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and Grippe, for sale by Newlin Drug Co. Price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial 30 days free.
