HOW MUCH MONEY DID HE SAVE

Did he save $2.50 on his suit? A person living in this county walked into one of our leading stores this week and while purchasing a few goods remarked that La Grande merchants could not sell such a suit as he was wearing for $10. The merchant examined the suit carefully and remarked no, that was true, neither could any La Grande merchant sell the wearer such a misfit suit at any price and a pleasant dialogue continued for several moments with the result that that man will never send away for any more goods.

The facts are the suit that the wearer had on, sold in this city for $12.50 and cost the man $11, instead of $10, for the expressage was $1.00 and few ever add freight or expressage when quoting a price even after they have paid it. Again the coat was 42 when it should have been 39. The party was afraid it would be too small so he ordered it plenty large, as a result it looked like it was given to him by some larger brother. He did not get a 50c pair of suspenders or have about 50c worth of other alternations made by the tailor to make the suit fit properly. And after he sent his $10 east, it was gone, he nor any of his neighbors will ever see it again, neither will that merchant who received it ever be called upon to help pay a dollars worth of taxes to keep the county roads and bridges in repair, never will he ever be called upon to help some unfortunate family or to give a bonus to some manufacturing plant to make pay rolls so that this man may have a better market for his produce. No, the eastern merchants will do none of these things, and if there is anything wrong with the goods he is to far away to ever know it, for the man would never say a word, while if purchased of one of our merchants he would either tell all of his neighbors what a cheat that store was or he would go to the merchant and secure a refund which would be cheerfully given.

Mr. H. S. Massee, of Walla Walla, is in the city visiting his son, S. F. Massee, the express agent.
