To much credit cannot be given Hon. C. D. Huffman the secretary of the Fruitgrowers association, for it was very largely due to his untiring efforts that the meeting was the unqualified success that it was. We believe the Hood River delegation will give Mr. Huffman credit likewise.

A WORD TO FARMER BOYS

The experience a young man gains on the farm is a most valuable asset. He should, therefore, reflect well before deciding to throw it away by entering some other profession in which this experience is of no special value. This is particularly true when we consider the extent to which most of the other professions are crowded and the unusual opportunities now offered in agriculture. Every ambitious farmer's boy should plan to supplement this experience by a training in the College of Agriculture, so as to be prepared for the greatest possible success. Ten years ago it was freely predicted that the demand for trained men in agriculture would soon be over supplied. The supply today is many times greater, and the demand is farther from being supplied than ever and is growing more rapidly than the number of young men fitting themselves to take such positions is increasing.

From a letter by H. J. Walters, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Columbia, Missouri.

YOUNG IS MANAGER

FOR JONATHAN BOURNE

John C. Young, of this city, the erstwhile chairman of the state central committee of the populist party, is in Portland. There is nothing particularly strange about Mr. Young being in the metropolis but his business there is something of interest at this time.

From advices received from Portland it appears that Mr. Young is officiating as the political manager of Jonathan Bourne, a candidate for the office of United States senator for Oregon.

During the silver campaign Messrs. Bourne and Young were in the harness together and did effective work. Now that Mr. Bourne has high political aspirations it was but natural that he should select his able lieutenant, Mr. Young to assist him on the road to victory.—Baker City Democrat.

The G. A. M. will give a party in Armory Hall tomorrow night. All members cordially invited.

FINE APPLES

O. P. Shappat, one of Cove's leading fruitmen, who is attending the fruit growers convention, brought in some fine specimens of a new variety of apple. They are called Opalesc and will probably be the coming brand for this section. They are highly colored and are fine eating or cooking apples.
