AMUSEMENTS

"GRACE JOHNSON COMPANY"

Commencing next Monday night at the Stewards opera house Edward Culp will present Miss Grace Johnson, and Company for a week's engagement.

The Company this year is greatly enlarged by the addition of many new vaudeville features. Under the direction of the "North West Theatrical Association" the Company has been meeting with unbounded success. The opening bill will be the great eastern success "An Artist's Wife."

The successful theatrical ventures of the past five years have not been those that are presenting plays that require an encyclopedia to translate, but light comedy and high class vaudeville presented by clever people and at popular prices of admission.

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished rooms cheap. Two blocks from Post Office. Phone Main 54 or Red 661.

DAMEN-KRANZ

The members of the Damen-Kranz and gentleman friends were entertained by Misses Aldrich and Rohan, Saturday evening, and enjoyed one of the most delightful evenings in their history of good times.

Q. A. M.

The members of the Q. A. M. expressed themselves as having a thoroughly good time at their dancing party Saturday evening.

401

Miss Mabel Williams will entertain the 401 club this evening.

LYLE TUESDAY MUSICAL

Mrs. F. L. Meyers has arranged a very interesting program for the Musical club which meets tomorrow afternoon.

ANAEMIA

The helplessness of drug physicians in handling these cases is a well established fact. Of the remedies, iron is not apt to be absorbed, and arsenic is a poison antagonistic to human life and prone to cause fatty degeneration of the spinal cord, resulting in paralysis.

The difficulty is not that the elements, iron, oxygen and so forth, are not supplied to the body, but that the blood-making organs are not receiving them and elaborating them into blood.

If the engine lacks steam because the firebox is not working, don't pour in more water, but fix the firebox. Hence the Osteopath, in anaemia, awakens the liver, spleen and other blood-making organs to action by adjusting the bodily parts, bones, muscles and ligaments so that the nerve and blood supply are free and active. As a result the organs are active, manufacturing into blood, the elements supplied in abundance by the food.
