OIL NOT A SUCCESS AT YAKIMA

Oiled streets are not a huge success in this latitude if this street can be taken as a sample, says the Yakima Republic. It is about as muddy as any other street in the city, but the mud is not so deep. It is here, however, together with a little mixture of the oily fluid that comes out of the earth.

This is the kind of weather that will test such a street. In the center of the thoroughfare the mud is very soft and pliable, while on each side where a large amount of sand was thrown as a covering and where travel has been light the surface of the street is comparatively smooth and hard.

This improvement cost the property owners on each side of second street $50 per lot. It had a beneficial effect during the summer months. The dust was held down, but this convenience was offset by the inconvenience of the brown, sticky accumulations of soil that adhered to almost everything except the road, that came in contact with, particularly the house wife's best rugs and carpets.

CONTINUE THE GOOD WORK

The efforts of the Navy Department to rid the Naval Academy of ruffianism are evidently not to be relaxed until the work of purification is completed. The court-martial is now engaged in trying the ninth offender against the Academy rules, and the laws, and the fact that the officers composing the court have taken houses at Annapolis for the winter, is an evidence that they still feel there is much work before them. That it will be thorough there need be no fear, and the punishments on conviction should be exemplary, and doubtless will be.

SPECIAL MEETINGS

Rev. Gibson of the Baptist church delivered a splendid sermon last evening at the Methodist church. Tonight Rev. Hays of the Presbyterian church will occupy the pulpit, and tomorrow evening Rev. King of Central church will preach. Rev. Mower, of the Methodist church was not able to be present last evening but is reported to be better this morning.

COMING INDOOR FINISH

M. L. Causey has secured the rights for the counties of Baker, Wallowa, Umatilla and Union for the sale of the Oregon Machine Graining Company's device for manufacturing a modern substitute for hardwood.

Mr. Causey has samples of the different grainings in his office which gives every evidence of making it possible to furnish elegant homes at a slight expense over the cost of ordinary finish. Even stained or second class lumber can be utilized for this purpose just as well as the first grades. Mr. Causey has samples of oak, mahogany and other grains at his office which show what can be accomplished with the soft woods of this section of the state. The lumber is run through the machine quite like a printing press and comes out grained as desired.

The machines are not expensive and it certainly looks like it will become in demand as builders investigate how beautiful the interior of the house can be finished with our own lumber at so small an expense.

In reference to the various hardwoods the principal and strong points of advantage claimed are:

"First—Being able to reproduce the exact and identical grains of the choicest hardwoods true to nature.

"Second—Not only do we obtain the effects of the natural color, but in various other shades as well in far more extensive variety than those that are obtainable with the hardwoods by the use of stains applied by a skilled mechanic.

"Third—The principal and essential point to command the extensive use for all work where expense is a consideration, and at the same time a desire existing to obtain the artistic hardwood effects is the comparative low cost. We are enabled to do this work in such perfect manner that it requires an expert to detect the difference, and fulfills the requirements of all high class work.

"We claim on a safe basis the comparative cost to be as follows, based upon present market prices, oak being the cheapest (therefore the most extensive hardwood used) costs above the softwood machine grained, exceeding one hundred per cent."

CITY CANDIDATES

Petitions to have their names placed upon the city ticket have been filed before the recorder by L. Rayburn and I. W. Faulk for the office of marshal, and I. R. Snook for recorder. This is the first step of the approaching election which takes place on March 12.

"BOX CAR CASEY"

Late yesterday afternoon a man who is known all over the state as "Box Car Casey" was arrested for the theft of an ax, the property of Dr. Charlton, which he disposed of to a second hand store. He was taken before Justice Hough and was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Casey is not his true name but the one under which he was mustered into the army during the Philippine war.

ALONG THE RIGHT WAY

In considering the rationality of Osteopathic treatment, too, it should be remembered that nerves control the circulation of the blood, and that except where there is some direct obstruction of the vessels themselves, the only way to correct abnormal blood circulation to any part of the body is through nerves.

So that it becomes apparent that troubles of the circulatory system, as well as those which might more definitely be classed as nervous diseases, are most likely to come from the very causes which the Osteopath always looks for.

It becomes evident, too, that the range of diseases amenable to Osteopathic treatment is a very wide one—that it, in fact, embraces practically all of the diseases to which flesh is heir and in which cure is possible.
