YAKIMA POTATOES STORED

Owing to the good demand for potatoes in the markets of the Sound the shipments from this place during the past week have been large, says the Yakima Daily Republic. In consequence the price has dropped a little. The commission men have been paying $16 for good potatoes, but today they say they would not pay over $14. The drop came about by reason of the heavy shipments to the Sound last week. One shipper of produce said this morning:

"I look for the bottom to fall out of the business this week if the shipments continue as they have been in the past few days. The head of our firm in Seattle sent me word Saturday that he had 12 cars of spuds on hand and that he could not get any more till the market eased a little. The markets have been cleaned of the products of the western part of the state and now the calls for Yakima spuds have been numerous.

"There are 2000 tons of spuds stored in the warehouses in this city and other parts of the valley. These are thousands of tons stored away by the farmers on their farms. With such a supply to draw from there should be some method about sending the stock to market. However, everybody wants to snip and does snip the market becomes glutted. This causes a sudden drop in price and nobody gains anything. Whereas, if we could get together and snip in as the market demands we would in the end get much better returns."

"HOME COMING WEEK"

The programme for "Home Coming Week" in Louisville, June 13 to 17, when one hundred thousand former Kentuckians are expected to go back to their native heath, is rapidly taking shape.

The first day, Wednesday, June 13, will be known as Reception and Welcome Day; the second, June 14, as Foster Day; the third, June 15, as Daniel Boone Day; the fourth, June 16, as Greater Kentucky Day, and the fifth, Sunday, June 17, as "Until We Meet Again."

The address of welcome is to be delivered by Henry Watterson, and responded to by David R. Francis of Missouri. Others on the programme are Wm. Lindsay, John G. Carlisle, John H. Harlan, Thos. T. Crittenden, Adlai E. Stevenson etc.

There will be a civic and a military parade on the first day, and every county in the State will establish headquarters in the new Armory, which is the second largest building of the kind in the United States. On Foster Day there will be several events in memory of the author of "My Old Kentucky Home," including the unveiling of a statue of Foster, which will later be cast in bronze and placed in the new capitol at Frankfort. Daniel Boone Day will be one of the features of the week, during which there will be sewing bees, apple parings, corn huskings and old-fashioned dances. The Commercial Club has offered a handsome medal to the person present on Daniel Boone Day who can prove the closest relationship to the great pioneer. On Greater Kentucky Day, there will be barbecues, campfires, etc., and orators will be given the opportunity to tell how Kentuckians have helped make other States greater by their having lived in them. On Sunday former Kentuckians will fill all the pulpits in Louisville. Send names and addresses of any former Kentuckians you may know, to R. E. Hughes, Secretary Commercial Club, Louisville.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up toward the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. AMUSEMENTS

CHARLES R. HANFORD

It is a high compliment in itself to say that Mr. Hanford did not disappoint the high expect ons, but on the contrary, even surpassed them in his excellent and finished performance of the Shakespearian comedy. More than this may be said in justice to Mr. Hanford that no other actor seen in Washington has so thoroughly realized the part of the adventurous and commanding Petruccio. His conception an interpretation of the role bore the impress of individuality. He interpreted the character with refreshing sprit and dash, and entered into full appreciation of its every mood. Much applause was aroused during the performance, and at the close, in response to insistent handclapping, Mr. Hanford appeared before the curtain and told the audience in an appropriate speech how highly he valued their hearty expression of approval.

Not only was Mr. Hanford's work of an excellent character, but that of every prominent member of the cast was thoroughly acceptable, and the performance proceeded with commendable spirit and vim. As the shrewish Katherine "Katharine" Drorich started her quarrels with Mr. Hanford giving a substantial demonstration of the part and evidencing a deep appreciation of its requirements both in the violent outbursts of temper and in her display of gently, womanly qualities after the "taming" process had been completed.—Washington (D. C.) Evening Star.—Mr. Hanford's performance in the evening of the 5th rev. At 8 o'clock at Opera House on Saturday Feb. 3.

GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN THAN THIS

A most striking illustration of friendship among dumb brutes was presented in this city a few days ago. One of our noblest women is the owner of a highly appreciated and well trained pet of the canine tribe, "a Siberian Spitz." He has been dutiful and a great home body, but falling into bad company he was allured from the premises by an ordinary cur. The owner irate over the truancy of her pet, went into a neighbor's yard, took a stick and was administering correct discipline. The pet was protesting vigorously when the cur standing near by rushed ferociously upon the lady took Spitz's part and bit the lady severely. She will bear through life the record of the cur's friendship for his comrade. And what asked by the owner of the cur if he should kill the transgressor for his inflicter wound, she said, "no, he took his friend's part. It was a noble act. He is a hero. Let him live."

ALONG THE RIGHT WAY

In considering the rationality of Osteopathic treatment, too, it should be remembered that nerves control the circulation of the blood, and that except where there is some direct obstruction of the vessels themselves, the only way to correct abnormal blood circulation to any part of the body is through nerves.

So that it becomes apparent that troubles of the circulatory system, as well as those which might more definitely be classed as nervous diseases, are most likely to come from the very cause which the Osteopath always looks for.

It becomes evident, too, that the range of diseases amenable to Osteopathic treatment is a very wide one—that it, in fact, embraces practically all of the diseases to which flesh is heir and in which cure is possible.

MILK TALK No. 2. CLEANLINESS

As milk is the natural food for the young, containing within itself all the requirements of the body, and as any adulteration is injurious to the system, (either from absorption or otherwise) therefore the health of the consumer, and especially the young, depend to a great extent upon those who handle the milk. And as there are so many ways in handling the cow as well as the milk after being drawn from the cow. Every consumer should visit the place from whence he gets his milk (no matter if it is surrounded by a high board fence) and see how the cow and the milk are handled before using it as a food for the baby.

"Please Smile AND Look Pleasant."

When a woman says "I am racked with pain," the word "racked" recalls the days when they stretched the tender bodies of women on the rack with rope and pulley until the very joints cracked.

Fancy an attendant saying to the tortured woman, "Please smile and look pleasant." And yet the woman "racked with pain," is expected to smile through her agony and to make home happy. She can't do it. It is against Nature. Generally speaking, the racking pains of ill-health such as headache, backache and "bearing-down pains" are related to derangements or disorders of the organs constituting femininity. When this condition is removed the general health is restored, and with health comes back the smile of happiness.

Any woman may regain her health at home without odious questionings or examinations by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Sick women may consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. Such letters are treated as sacredly confidential.

"It affords me pleasure to relate the wonderful merits of your great medicine," writes Mr. J. Wesley Rhine, of Woodbury, N. Jersey, L. Box 262. "My wife has been using it for some time past, having suffered severely with bearing-down pains, aching in back, and many other complaints peculiar to women. She was very weak, could not do any heavy work or washing but can do all kinds of work now. She is soon to become a mother, but she does not fear the result as heretofore, all due to your wonder-worker, 'Favorite Prescription.'"

"Your 'Pleasant Pellets' are also worth mentioning. I have used them for indigestion and stomach trouble, and have found them to be all that you claim. They are my constant companions—'once used, always kept.'"

Give away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1000 pages, over 700 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. K. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.
