has done his work unostentatiously and well, impressing his ability upon all who have seen him, and yet avoiding the haste with which new senators are tempted to precipitate themselves into discussions. He is a man of fine talents and very great industry. His habit of mastering the details of his subject and thinking it through was revealed in his prompt and cogent answers to the questions which were shot at him by the best lawyers in the Senate."

OLD AGE

Depends not upon Years, but upon Vital Force.

In La Grande lately, there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to old people. Some at fifty years call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy years seem active, vigorous and young.

It is not years, but it is loss of vital force that makes a person old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and poor circulation soon start functional powers and vitality on the wane, and then the symptoms of old age soon appear.

Mr. Newlin, of the Newlin Drug Co., says "that old feeling may be warded off and we wish every person in La Grande who feels old, whether they are so in years or not, would try the great discovery, Vinol. We know that it has vital principles which will in a natural manner strengthen digestion, send rich, red blood coursing through the veins, and give new life and strength to every organ of the body, and this is what makes the old feel old again.

Mrs. H. W. Avery says: "At the age of eighty-nine I felt the need of a tonic, something to strengthen and build me up. For some time I have been taking Vinol, and I have found that it brings vigor and renewed vitality to the aged as nothing else will."

Vinol repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength. It is an ideal body builder for old folks.

We promise you that Vinol is, first of all, agreeable, because it contains no fishy oil. Second, that it is a genuine cod liver medicine, containing all the medical curatives and strength making elements taken direct from fresh cod livers; and third, we will return your money if it does not do exactly what we claim for it."

THE STATE PRINTER'S EMOLUMENTS

It would seem that a campaign for the nomination of Republicans, waged among Republicans, by Republican candidates should at least be free to as full an extent as possible from those little ways of the pettifogger, of the demagogue, and the cheap politician. One of the candidates for nomination for the office of state printer, however, publishes a circular letter which is both unjust and untrue, at least in its inference, and which carries with it a reflection on the past administration of that office which is unworthy of any man who asks the suffrage of the people and expects their charitable consideration, and should have it, when his term of office might come to expire.

He says in this letter that the state printing office "is the means of extracting large sums of money from the treasury for which the people of Oregon get no equivalent benefit" and further says that he pledges himself to a great reduction in the enormous cost of the office if elected as state printer.

The gentleman making this campaign has had political experience in the past, and has served several years at the capital building in a position of more or less trust and honor. He knows, therefore, that the state printer performs simply the work demanded of him by the various officials of the state, and that he does no work that has not for its warrant authority of law. He knows also that the emoluments of the office come through properly audited channels, and that the amount that he shall receive for his pay is reported to the auditing officers by an expert printer appointed by the chief executive, who measures every line of work done by the state printer. The law fixes the amount of possible charge; it provides how much the printer shall receive for his work. A state printer could ask no more than the law allows and certainly the people do not expect him to endeavor to collect less than the law allows for his services.

The man who has made himself a candidate knows very well that he could in no wise reduce the expenses of that office unless he did it through refusing to accept his own just pay or through doing cheap, and, therefore, unsatisfactory work for the state. The printer does not provide what blanks or books shall be used by the various state officers and state boards. The intimation in this man's circular letter that he can reduce the expenses of this office he well knows is based on no sound foundation. The people are too wise to be misled by any such promise.—Salem Statesman, editorial Feb. 14.

GOOD IMPRESSION

Oregon's senatorial representation is attracting more attention in the East than at home. Following the courtesy to the junior senator at the time of his appointment, many compliments have been paid the elder member of the state's delegation. One of the brightest editorials that appeared in prominent eastern papers following Senator Fulton's able opening of the rate-legislation debate in the Senate was that in the Indianapolis Star, as follows:

"Senator Fulton of Oregon seems to have acquitted himself well in the first noteworthy appearance on the floor of the Senate in debate with men like Spooner, Foraker and Bailey. It is three years now since Mr. Fulton was elected, and he
