AMUSEMENTS

"HOOLIGAN IN NEW YORK"

A feature in which the management of "Hooligan in New York" takes great pride is the number of high-class specialties to be seen in the production. The stereotyped song and dance and the "coon" song with the chestnut, flavor with which a long-suffering public has been inflicted so often are tabooed. There is dancing, plenty of it, but it's different. The Marion Sisters, who are with the company, wear gold medals which they won in a contest at Tony Pastor's theatre for novelty dancers over a 100 competitors. Forty-two teams were in the contest and the Misses Marion were unanimously awarded the prize. They will positively appear with "Hooligan in New York" at Steward's Opera House Feb. 27.

OBITUARY

Goldie Hazel Glass, only child of John J. and Minnie M. Glass, was born in La Grande, Ore., May 25, 1900. Departed this life at four o'clock in the afternoon of Sunday, February 18, 1906, at her home six miles above Hilgard.

She leaves a mother, three grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hagey and Mrs. M. J. Glass; six aunts Mrs. W. T. Bartmess La Grande; Mrs. A. Simdman, Hilgard; Mrs. A. W. Wilson, Portland; Mrs. J. A. Parks, Fayette, N. Dak; and Misses Bessie and Eva Hagey, Hilgard. Also six uncles, C. F. and W. W. Glass of La Grande, H. E., G. F. and M. D. Hagey of Hilgard and J. B. Hagey of Starkey.

All that medical skill and good nursing could do was done but death claimed our little darling and she has gone to be with the Savior. A sweet and pure flower has been transplanted from this world with its sin and sorrow into the beautiful home over there. A short funeral service was conducted by O. H. King in Central Church of Christ. May those who mourn rejoice in Goldie's safety and may they so trust and obey Christ that they shall meet her in the Father's house.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Apply to 910 Main Street.

THE REVIVAL

The auditorium of the Central Church was filled last night to hear Evangelist Handsaker on "A Pardoned Convict." The text of the discourse was Rom. 8:1 "There is therefore no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus."

The Evangelist said in part "Everyone out of Christ, rests condemnation of death. But God has provided an escape from the consequence of sin in the person of the Lord Jesus. The line which separates the sinner from Christ may be crossed by everyone who has a sincere desire to accept Christ and will show his willingness by forsaking sin and becoming obedient to His commands."

The subject for tonight is: "Faith—what is it? How is it obtained?"

DESTROYING THE APPLE APHIS

There are two methods which have given excellent satisfaction in this state. The first is to spray the trees in winter with the lime-sulphur-salt spray, using the Oregon formula of 50 pounds lime, 50 pounds sulphur, 25 to 50 pounds salt to each 150 gallons water. This spray is for the purpose of destroying the black, shiny eggs which are found at this time upon the trees. The second method is to spray the infested trees shortly after the leaf buds start in spring with a dilute kerosene emulsion.—Oregon Experiment Station.
