COUNCIL MEETING

All of the councilmen were present last evening at the special session which was called chiefly to consider the improvement of 2d. street, and the Recorder was instructed to publish a notice of the proposed grade which would be adopted at the next regular meeting unless defeated by a remonstrance. The notice appears elsewhere. This is one of the most expensive streets in the city to grade and will undoubtedly meet with considerable opposition from those property owners who in some instances the expense would be exceedingly heavy.

The La Grande Base Ball Association met yesterday and selected Al Heisner as manager for this coming season. The fans are assured a good base ball season, so far as La Grande is concerned. Arrangements are now being made for one of the strongest clubs ever brought together in Eastern Oregon, and a pleasing feature of the organization is the fact that the team will be composed of home players. The La Grande boys have always heretofore been able to secure a winning ball team and the 1906 team will be no exception to the rule.

SOCIETY

AT THE GOODNOUGH HOME

This morning the attention of the court was devoted to the case wherein James McCoy seeks to dispossess one W. E. Evans from a farm which Evans has been in possession of as renter.

THE MEETINGS

Last evening it was necessary to open the lecture room to accommodate the audience that came to hear Evangelist Handsaker. The Bible reading was upon the "Great Confession." Matt. 16:13-18; Matt. 10:32-33; John 20:30-31; Rom. 10:9-11 etc. The sermon was on the subject of "Baptism" and partook largely of the nature of a Bible reading, the preacher going repeatedly to the Book for information. He offered no word of abjuration to those who practice sprinkling or pouring but urged that we may unite in taking the safe side. Many who have accepted sprinkling afterward are dissatisfied and request immersion, but those who have been immersed do not later ask for sprinkling. At the close of the discourse a lady presented her letter and two people were baptized. There will be services this evening.
