SOCIETY

LYLE TUESDAY MUSICAL

Yesterday's musicale was full of interest from the time of roll call until a motion to adjourn was made. Miss Margaret Kirk arranged the program—all patriotic numbers; then followed a cleverly planned game of flags in which Mrs. Neil was awarded the souvenir, a dainty basket of candied cherries and a little "George Washington" hatchet.

Miss Moira Akine entertained last evening for Miss Ethel Parker of Baker City.

TO THINK ABOUT

While there are now about 4,000 Osteopaths in the field, the number is very small when the size of the country is considered. In sections where they are sufficiently numerous they have become the regular family physicians and treat and cure every variety of acute disease with greater ease and certainty than is possible in chronic cases.

But in the communities in which Osteopaths are scarce in proportion to the population, chronic troubles will occupy nearly all of the time of the Osteopath. For it must be remembered that the Osteopath's work is work, that he is a physically capable of only a certain amount of it, that he can give adequate attention to only a limited number of cases.

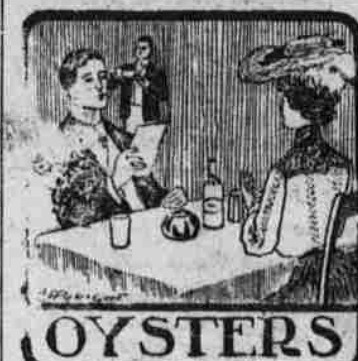

However, the Osteopath is a DOCTOR in a true sense of the word, and he is anxious that all shall know the efficacy of his system; so that he will usually try to make time to attend any acute case in which his services are deemed necessary. He is glad of the opportunity to demonstrate his effectiveness.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss a husband and three children, Ivy, Johnnie and S. V. Jr., aged respectively seven years, five years and seventeen months. She also leaves a mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Holmes and four brothers and one sister all of whom reside in this city.
