A QUESTION

"Can I be a Christian outside of the church?" is the question to be considered by Evangelist Handsaker in the Central church this evening.

Sometimes we hear one say, "I wish to be a Christian but do not wish to enter the church" and again "I wish to be a Christian but do not care to join any denomination."

Do these statements mean the same? Can I be in Christ and not in his church? Must I join a denomination to be a Christian? Well come and hear Handsaker tonight.

OUR REASON FOR SEEKING LEGISLATION

Whenever in this Union the Osteopaths are seeking legislation, it is an effort on the part of our profession to establish educational qualifications and demand proper equipment of candidates for licenses. This is done to protect alike the people and the profession from a common foe—the pretender to knowledge and technical skill who has no foundation for his claims. It is not fair that physicians of any other should try to thwart the Osteopaths from accomplishing this good work—as they often do. The efforts of every person who believes in fair play and high qualifications for physicians regardless of school, should be enlisted in furthering the passage of these osteopathic bills. Two dozen states have already spread such laws upon their statute books. New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts are now asked by the Osteopaths to pass laws that will shut out imposters who pretend to belong to our school but do not. Justice and the public good alike demand such legislation. —Osteopathic Health.
