CONVENTION SESSION IS SHORT

The convention of Epworth League cabinets, held in the M. E. church yesterday, came to a close last evening after completing arrangements for the coming big convention that will be held at Elgin in the near future. The date was not decided.

The session was called to order by the retiring president, Rev. Hill. Rev. McGoard, of Payette, Idaho, was elected president, pro tem. The resignation of Miss Johnson from the office of first vice president, was accepted, but no action was taken to fill the vacancy. The question of re-districting the present district came up for discussion but it was thought best to let the territory stand as it is.

A program for the coming convention of delegates at Elgin was arranged but is not ready for publication. Those who attended were:

Rev. Hill and Miss Gates, Baker City; Misses Lena Merrith Bessie Spencer, Bessie Smith, Bonnie Smith, of Elgin. Those who represented the local league were Misses Edna Smith and Edna Breckenridge, Nora Fritz and Mr. C. L. Gillilan.

AMUSEMENTS

THE BEST SO FAR

The audience at the opera house last night saw what was perhaps the best performance of the week by the Frazer theatre company. The play was full of mirth and comedy from start to finish and kept the house in continual laughter. "Nature's Nobleman" was the bill and was the best production of the week. Tonight it will be "In Old Virginia". This will be the last opportunity for theatre patrons to see this excellent company as the week's stand is now complete.

The entertainment to be given on Wednesday evening is for one of the worthiest causes that could appeal to our citizens. Some months ago a Crowell cabinet of physical apparatus was purchased for the school taught by Mr. Hockenberry. The cost of the cabinet was $180. Half of this has been paid through the generosity of our citizens. It is hoped that the remainder will be secured through this entertainment. The apparatus will always be here for the use of our young people.

In this practical age few things can be of more use to the average boy and girl than the study of physics. A knowledge of the forces of nature is almost an absolute necessity to every one. Without apparatus it is almost impossible to teach the subject successfully. Two of the young men of the school have already by aid of this apparatus performed more than 500 experiments successfully.

The entertainment itself will be one of the best ever given here by local talent. The diagram will be open Tuesday morning.
