CASTRO PAYS THE PENALTY

(Scraps News Association)
Columbus, O., April 6.—Fred Castor, alias Frank Connors, who was sentenced to death for the murder of Detective Higgins of the Erie, Pa., police force, was executed today by electrocution to expiate his crime. Castor pleaded guilty to another murder, that of officer Dan Davis. Castor shot and killed Davis, when the latter, with several other officers surprised him and his accomplices while they were burglarizing the residence of Horace Chapman I this city on June 7, of last year. The condemned man was formerly of Flint, Mich., where his parents, said to be respectable people, still live.
Castor asked for a new trial, but the motion was denied. He remained perfectly cool and firm to the last. A short time ago, when the remark was made that there was a strong agitation in favor of abolishing the death penalty in this state, Castor expressed himself strongly opposed to such a course. "I am against the abolition of the death penalty," he said, "although death is staring me in the face. The abolition of the death penalty would lead to a terrible state of affairs in Ohio."

HERE IS A CHANCE

Every few weeks one or more traveling typewriter repair men visit this city and do more or less work. This is unnecessary. We have a man who is in this business who has had exceptional advantages, having for four years worked in the Remington factory. He is here and stands back of his work. We refer to Mr. L. C. Smith, whose place of business is in the creamery building. Here is an opportunity to patronize home industry and we should cultivate this spirit more in the future than we have in the past.

Dayton Bros. the Pendleton eye specialists will have their office at Hotel Sommer Saturday April 7. Eyes examined free.
