HENEY WILL STAND NO FURTHER DELAY

If There is he will Make Demand For Execution of Sentence in the Williamson Case

(Scripps News Association) Portland, April 9.—Judge W. H. Hunt of the federal court this morning notified the attorneys for congressman Williamson, Van Geener and Marion R. Biggs who were convicted of subornation of perjury in land fraud cases stated that he would not sign the bill of exceptions in their present form as it was not complete. He read a letter from prosecuting attorney Francis J. Heney threatening to press the execution of the sentence imposed in any case which were made to delay. The Federal Grand Jury voted indictments for land frauds in Curry county and they will be returned late this afternoon or tomorrow.

HALE AND HEARTY AT NINETY-TWO

For the ninety-second time in her life, Grandma Palmer has passed a milestone. Last Saturday afternoon she was at home to callers and about sixty of her friends called to offer congratulations to the ripe old age, and to have a friendly chat with the genial old lady. This morning she granted an interview with an Observer representative and talked in a reminiscent way of her arrival in the Grande Ronde valley forty years ago. When the mule train made up in Iowa, slowly wended its way up the Ronde valley towards La Grande, they had been seventeen weeks on the trail. Mrs. Palmer has seen La Grande grow from a few scattered huts on the hill, to its present size and industries. During these many years she has kept pace with the growth and advancement of this country both east and west and talks intelligently on any of the leading issues of the day.

Father Time has left few of his marks. She reads, talks and hears like a person of fifty and to look at her beaming face reminds one of a person of middle age rather than one who is creeping near the century mark. During the interview the conversation drifted to the late Bishop Morris. She takes considerable pride in stating that that saintly man was an intimate friend. The two attended the same country school together in Westtown, Pennsylvania. Here they studied together, played together, grew to young girl and boyhood. At an early age both came west and Grandma has kept close track of the Bishop, and was sorely grieved at his death. She rode on the first 16 miles of railroad that was built in the United States, and has since seen its growth westward and remembers distinctly when the smoke of the first engine was seen in this state.

This old pioneer lives in perfect comfort, having about her five of her six children, and with no cares to worry her in her advanced age. We hope this exponent of early pioneer life may remain in our midst for a long time to come.

DOWIE GROWS WEAKER

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—Still faithful to his old leader with whom he associated in the Mexican plantation scheme, Deacon Fielding H. Wihite left for St. Louis today to meet Dowie. He carries with him funds enough to bring the party from St. Louis to Chicago. Two brothers named Ogden today displayed pictures of Dowie in their windows and crowds on the outside began hissing "Take the pictures down." Many of the prominent Dowieites left for St. Louis today to meet their old leader and assure him of their support. The Shiloh home will be opened to receive the Apostle and Mrs. Dowie will give him her tenderest care, believing him to be insane. She holds that he cannot be held responsible for moral deficiencies, and all comforts will be accorded the man and he will be met at the station with a brougham which he has ordered. Voliva, however, says that he will not be allowed to speak in the tabernacle, and if he holds the meeting he has called, he must address the assembly in a vacant lot. Voliva has also forbidden any more money to be sent to the Apostle.

Longview, Tex., April 9.—Prophet Dowie appears to be weakening under the strain. This morning he acted more like a spoiled child than a leader. He ordered breakfast three times and threw the viands from the window in a fit of rage, finally eating some Scotch porage, milk and oranges. He trusts no one but Deacon Parker. The indications are that he has received many disquieting telegrams from Zion City. He shouts anthems so loud that they can be heard outside of his stateroom.

(Scripps News Association) Boston, Mass., April 9.—Robert Proctor and Senator Lodge are arraigned this morning in the superior court on a charge of larceny. The charge accuses the two with fraudulent use of two hundred twenty-five dollars which John G. Bortgen says he gave Proctor as a campaign contribution in 1904. They pleaded not guilty and were held on a bail of five hundred dollars, and their hearing will be held soon.

JOINT MEETING TOMORROW

New York, April 9.—The miners and operators of the anthracite regions held a separate meeting this morning, preparatory to the joint conference to be held this afternoon, to discuss the arbitration features.

At the request of the operators the conference between the committees of coal operators and the miners, which was scheduled for today to consider the anthracite field, was postponed until tomorrow.

THE FUNDAMENTAL TRUTH

The fundamental Osteopathic idea is that the body is a complete institution, made by the Creator with ample facilities for remedying its own ills as long as its structure remains unchanged. Sit with your legs crossed for a half hour. The pressure upon nerves and blood vessels which results causes the feet to go asleep. Pressure is crowding the structures. The feet are forced into a state of incipient ill health. Pressure is the sole cause; and all of us know enough to change position. Whenever you thus change your position you are, even if unconsciously, endorsing Osteopathic treatment—you are yourself an Osteopath. You remove the pressure and straighten out your legs, giving the blood a chance to pass back and forth naturally and the nerves to act normally. These are precisely the things which the Osteopath does, and upon which he depends for the relief of suffering and the cure of disease.

You perhaps do not see how definite disease can be similar to the case of your foot when it is "asleep"? Every part of the body, be it remembered, is under the absolute control of nerves and blood vessels—of nerves alone, in fact, for the caliber of blood vessels is governed by nerves too.

A RECENTLY DISCOVERED ROMANCE IN THE PEERAGE

The Appearance of a New Heir Brings to Light some Interesting Facts Which Have Been Kept Dark.

(Scripps News Association)

London, April 9.—The sixth Viscount Bolingbroke and St. John has just celebrated his tenth birthday at his seat, Lydiard Park, near Swindon. His little lordship's romantic birth and "discovery" upon his father's death at the age of eight, seven or eight years ago, is one of the most interesting stories connected with the peerage.

Everyone supposed that the fifth Viscount died a bachelor and childless, and a grandson of the third Viscount was regarded as heir-at-law. Then came the announcement that at the age of 72 or 73, on January 5, 1893, the deceased nobleman had been married at the Bath registry office to Mary Emily Elizabeth Howard, spinster, aged 32, of Lydiard. The registrar who performed the ceremony is still living in retirement at Bath, and the three witnesses of the marriage who scrupulously regarded his lordship's wish for privacy, are all living.

(Scripps News Association) Washington, D. C., April 9.—The President today nominated Alfred S. Moore of Pennsylvania to be district judge of division two of Alaska.

CYCLONE SWEEPS ISLAND

(Scripps News Association) London, April 9.—A telegram here says that Rodrigues of the Mascarones is swept by a cyclone. The schooner Zee laden with Government supplies was lost. The Governor of Mauritius has sent aid to the sufferers.

Lord and Lady Bolingbroke had lived in Bath under different noms-de-plume. After the birth of a child in 1893, which died soon after, they eventually resumed their respective stations at Lydiard-park, her Ladyship passing as Miss Howard. Later she went to Bath and here, little Lord Bolingbroke, all unknown was born. The medical gentleman who attended was in the secret, but nobody else. The nurse is dead. The late Lord Bolingbroke registered the birth himself as follows: Name, Vernon Henry, earl, boy; father's name, Henry Mildmay St. John; mother's name, Mary Emily Elizabeth St. John, formerly Howard; father's rank or profession, Viscount Bolingbroke, of Lydiard park. Even after that important event, Lord and Lady Bolingbroke kept their relationship a secret, and the boy passed his infancy in Bath. There he was at the age of three, when he became the sixth Viscount of Bolingbroke.
