Dewey's University Stands in with the Promoter

SUIT FOR DEWEY FUNDS

(Scripps News Association)

New York, April 10.—Amos W. Atwell has brought suit against Major General Grenville V. Dodge for the recovery of $25,000, which, the complainant claims, is due him as commission. Shortly after the victory of Admiral Dewey at Manila Bay, on May 1, 1898, and after the return of Admiral Dewey and his fleet, Mr. Atwell proposed to the officials of Norwich University that a fund be raised as a memorial to the admiral and his achievement. Norwich University was the school at which Admiral Dewey received his early training. It was formerly at Northfield, Vt. According to the complaint, the proposition of Mr. Atwell was that he would collect the fund, but was to receive 50 per cent thereof for his time and trouble. This, it is alleged, was accepted by the board of trustees, and Mr. Atwell, he alleges, was so fortunate as to raise $100,000. Of this amount, it is stated, $50,000 was given by Andrew Carnegie.

The complaint alleges that the plaintiff received his allotted fifty per cent commission on the $50,000 raised, exclusive of Mr. Carnegie's gift, but his commission on that gift was denied him. He urged the trustees to comply with the agreement but, he alleges, this was refused. For that reason the suit was brought against Gen. Dodge, as president of the board of trustees. It is expected that the suit will be argued on the May calendar in the supreme court.

THE FUNDAMENTAL TRUTH

The fundamental Osteopathic idea is that the body is a complete institution, made by the Creator with ample facilities for remedying its own ills as long as its structure remains unchanged. Sit with your legs crossed for a half hour. The pressure upon nerves and blood vessels which results causes the feet to go asleep. Pressure is crowding the structures. The feet are forced into a state of incipient ill health. Pressure is the sole cause; and all of us know enough to change position.

Whenever you thus change your position you are, even if unconsciously, endorsing Osteopathic treatment—you are yourself an Osteopath. You remove the pressure and straighten out your legs, giving the blood a chance to pass back and forth naturally and the nerves to act normally. These are precisely the things which the Osteopath does, and upon which he depends for the relief of suffering and the cure of disease.

You perhaps do not see how definite a disease can be similar to the case of your foot when it is "asleep"? Every part of the body, be it remembered, is under the absolute control of nerves and blood vessels—of nerves alone, in fact, for the caliber of blood vessels is governed by nerves too.

No opposition to State Superintendent of Schools Ackerman. He suits the people.
