BETTER THAN EVER

The Swain Company's production of "The Inside Track" last night drew a deservedly large and appreciative house. Contrary to the usual custom with this class of company, each succeeding performance of the Swain Company only serves to strengthen their well earned prominence as the strongest organization in the west.

Cora King Swain and Frank B. Fanning in their respective leading roles, further established themselves in popular favor, while Dorothy Fairfax, in a most difficult and unusual role endeared herself to the hearts of her audience from start to finish.

The "Jim" of Mr. Swain was a laugh throughout while the work of the rest of the cast was finished and competent to a degree.

Jimmy Wright in his burlesque dramatic song and dance specialty made a decided hit.

Tonight the greatest of scenic productions "In sight of St. Paul's," holds the boards. This great melodrama from the pen of the great English playwright "Sutton Vane" is offered for the first time on the road by the Swain Company, and with a full complement of scenic electrical settings promises an event of unusual interest to theatre goers.

Really it seems strange to see a dollar show for 10, 20 and 30 cents. A better show at any price never visited this city.

HON. H. M. CAKE

The Polk County Observer of Dallas, in its issue of March 9, quotes the following from the Hillsboro Independent, regarding H. M. Cake of Portland, candidate for United States Senator:

"Mr. Cake is a man of energy and push; a man of ability and integrity; whatever he undertakes goes. As president of the Portland Commercial Club and one of the men whose efforts made the Lewis and Clark fair a great and glorious success, and in fact as a man who has devoted his energy to pushing every enterprise that would benefit Portland and bring to the notice of the world the resources and advantages of Oregon.

Mr. Cake's name has become familiar to almost every reader, and they have looked upon him as a friend and a mighty good man to be. In the United States Senate he would do things and that is the kind of man Oregon wants, and we are sure the voters are going to look at the things he has done and then believe the vapors of a few kickers. When Mr. Cake decided to go after the nomination he immediately resigned as president of Commercial Club which left him free to go before the people and ask for the nomination at the primary election, and we are sure that he will get it by a big majority."
