SPORTING NEWS

LA GRANDE VS. ALICEL

The game with Alicel tomorrow is an annual event, as La Grande always plays this team the first game whenever possible. Two years ago it took eleven innings to down the Alicelers and last year they were defeated by a more decisive score.

There are so many new men in the team that it is impossible to get a line on the team without attending the games and a big crowd should be on hand to see the season open here, as well as get the first glimpse of the new players.

NEW GYM IN WALLA WALLA

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Yellow Kids of Athena will play the Spokane team two games instead of one. The Sunday game will be played at Pendleton. This accounts for the fact that Spokane was not brought here for Sunday.

Baker City has hit upon a novel plan for raising money for the San Francisco sufferers. The scheme is a charity baseball game. The band there is also in sympathy with the plan and between the two organizations they have planned a day of entertainment for the fans of Baker City. Amateur teams in Portland are doing the same thing.

COAST LEAGUE MAY DIE

The destruction of California towns especially San Francisco has no doubt killed baseball in the south. Just what will happen is of course impossible to predict, but the leading fans all over the northwest seem to bring the question down to two things: Either the game will be transferred to Portland or the Southern teams will fall out altogether and Portland join the Northwest league with Tocomas and Spokane. The question will of course be settled in a few days.

ATHENA HERE SOON

Manager Heisner has arranged two games with Athena to be played here on the fifth and sixth of May. Athena plays the strong league team of Spokane today and tomorrow and the scores from this game will give a line on the real strength of Athena.

WALLA WALLA AFTER ED YATES

Manager Tempany of the Walla Walla Boosters, who has been negotiating with Eddie Yates of Spokane for some time to hold down the third bag, is still hopeful that he will be able to secure this crack little player.

The Walla Walla team was completely snowed under in the first game with the Spokane team. The summary for the first game follows:

Score: R. H. E.
Spokane 12 0 0 5 2 2 10—13 14 0
Walla Walla 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 2—4 9 2
Batteries—Simmons, Rush and Stanley, Blackburn and Lankard.

TRACK PROSPECTS BRIGHT

When May 25th comes around, followers of the La Grande high school track and field team may see a fair aggregation of athletes. Other teams in the state are getting ready for this big quadrangular affair and La Grande will not be in the rear if good hard work can help.

There is not an abundance of material here, neither is there too much spirit in the work, but even as it is, the school may have a good team. McKennon seems to have the dashes well in hand. In the longer dashes he will have as running mates, Reynolds and Bacon. Kilpatrick will probably represent the school in the distances. Goodnough will do the high jump act and Young is vaulting with considerable ability. The hurdles will be taken care of by Hendricks. In the weight events, Stover is doing the best work at present, but Faulk, Watson and Pickler are also out for these events and the one who is to toss the saucer, nail driver and shot at Union on the 25th day of May will have earned his position. The mentioned candidates are only those who are doing the best work now and the personnel may be completely changed when the big day comes. The boys are anxious to make the coming high school entertainment a success, as a big attendance at this meeting will assure the team of many needed articles such as discs and vaulting poles.

BOYS ORGANIZE

The Boy's Improvement club of the Central church have organized an athletic club to consist of a baseball and track team. Arlo Meyers is captain of the track team and Frank Ralston is captain of the ball players. Island City juniors will be the first victims of these young amateurs and the athletic club of the M. E. church will also cross bats with them in the near future. It is hoped that several games can be arranged with outside teams. The track team is also anxious to meet any similar organization under 16 years of age.

M. E. CHURCH CLUB HAS NAME

The Blue Mountain Athletic club is the name the M. E. Church Sunday School boys have adopted. They held a meeting last night and adopted the constitution and decided on a name. Monday afternoon at four o'clock the boys will meet again and elect permanent officers.

LINE-UP ANNOUNCED

Captain Siegrist has finally decided who shall play this season, at least those who will open the season. Five of the line-up are well known in baseballdom and need no introduction to La Grande Fans. This also applies in a way to Gregory the new pitcher. He has played good ball although the coast states. That he knows the game, has a speedy ball and good control is a conceded fact. Betzel, the other twirler, is a tenderfoot alright but even a tender easterner can play ball as he will demonstrate at his first opportunity. He has played with amateur teams in Prescott, Wisconsin. Collins has played with the California state league, and while no one here has seen him in action, he will no doubt prove a find. He has the weight, is active and has a phenomenal wing.

Klub has been in the city less than a week but in that time has proven that he can catch. His record in the East has been an excellent one. He will demonstrate it to the satisfaction of every one tomorrow.

Kooser is another easterner who has played in leading teams of Pennsylvania. The line-up for tomorrow, batting order: Crawford, 2b; Van Buren, rf; Siegrist, 1b; Klebs, c; Collins, lf; Gregory, Betzel, p; Kooser, ss; Childers, 3b; Cotner, cf.

HISTORY OF OLYMPIAN GAMES

(Scripps News Association)
Athens, April 21—Thousands of visitors from all parts of the globe have invaded this city, the ancient seat of Hellenic culture and prowess, and all of them are looking forward with eagerness to the opening of the great Olympic Games, which will take place tomorrow at the Panathenian Stadium, reconstructed in white Pentelic marble and with strict adherence to the classic style, on the site of the Stadium of Herodotus Atticus. Everything is in readiness for the great athletic contest, which will begin tomorrow and will extend over a period of eleven days, ending on May 2. The magnificent stadium, which has a seating capacity of more than sixty thousand is completed and awaiting the enormous crowds of spectators, which will be present at the opening ceremonies, to be presided over by the King of Greece in person.

Probably never in the history of the world has there been an athletic tournament of similar magnitude, at least not since the days of Attica's grandeur. Every civilized country has sent its best athletes to this gigantic tournament, carefully trained for this supreme test of their strength, and endurance.

The city, beautifully situated upon the historic ground rising from the Piraeus to the crest of the rock strewn hills, encircling the magnificent harbor, presents a scene of indescribable beauty. Nature has done a great deal for Athens and human hands have added to the natural beauty by tastefully introducing touches of color by means of flags and bunting, which have been lavishly on public and private buildings. All the ships in the Piraeus are displaying their flags and tomorrow, on the opening day of the Olympic Games they will break out in full dress, with lines of flags extending from bow to stern.

The quarters of the athletes, which are near the Stadium, not far from the harbor have been for some days the centre of general interest. Thousands of visitors who had come early, to make sure of accommodations, watched the preliminary trials and exercises of the athletes from day to day, following their performances with the keenest interest.

It was a great idea of the Greek Government to revive the Olympic Games after a lapse of nineteen centuries. During the period of Hellenic greatness the Olympic Games were held once every four years for nearly twenty centuries. In the fourth century after Christ they were discontinued. Greece had fallen a prey to internal dissension and barbaric invasion and was disorganized and weak. During the classical period, the Golden Age of Hellas, every Greek was an Athlete and the Olympic Games were the great National Event, which quadrannually assembled thousands of the most famous of the Greek Athletes to Athens, to measure their strength and nimbleness against that of thousands of other athletes from all parts of Greece. Great was the fame of the victors in the Olympic Games in these days and some of the names of the most famous and victorious athletes have been immortalized by the records of Greek history.

About ten years ago the plan was suggested to revive the Olympic Games on the same site where two thousand years ago the great athletic contests were held. The idea met with general acclamation and the first meet, which was held in Athens in 1896, was a tremendous success. There were more than four hundred thousand spectators present on that occasion. The American team carried off the greatest number of points. Since
