MCLEOD TO BLAME

Quite a number of people are disappointed in the fact that Hon. N. C. McLeod was not renominated for representative, and that in view of his strenuous work against the division of the county during the last session, he should have been returned.

The entire western portion of the county thoroughly appreciates Mr. McLeod's efforts and would have gladly returned him to the legislature had he in the beginning of the campaign, permitted his friends to use his name, but he positively refused to be a candidate under any condition whatever and so announced himself time after time. After two or three other candidates had filed their petition Mr. McLeod finally consented. Had he consented in the beginning, no La Grande man would have thought of coming out against him. As it is Mr. McLeod can blame no one but himself.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE PROGRESS

Forty miles to the westward the people are to vote in June on an amendment admitting the women of our bordering state to the ballot. Western people have always kept ahead of older communities on such subjects, and Oregon should demonstrate in the forthcoming election that it can be relied upon to maintain the reputation that has been won by the west for progressiveness on all such issues. Oregon men should admit the women of the state to an equality with themselves when the opportunity is presented at the polls two months hence, thus doing justice to the sex and affording such additional encouragement to those who are struggling to bring eastern states to full recognition of the principles involved.—Statesman, Boise, Idaho.

REFORM THE ORDER OF THE DAY

The elections show conclusively that the reform sentiment is gaining ground rapidly in this state. Reform Sheriff Brown carries Baker county over Johns for governor. Reform Sheriff Tom Ward secures a tremendous vote in Portland after a most bitter fight put up against him. Reform Sheriff Smutt, of Morrow is renominated for the third time, and thus it is over the entire state where the issue was drawn. It might be well to state in connection with the above that things are tending towards the necessity of another reform wave in this city. It is to be hoped that a word to the wise may be sufficient.

By those who are anxious to see the primary election abolished it is often contended that no one but a rich man can expect to be nominated under this system. They forget that Mr. Furnish is credited with spending a much larger sum to secure the nomination four years ago, than all of the Republican nominees put together this year and it is also a well known fact that under a primary law Mr. Furnish could never be nominated.

There is no question but what it was the intention of not a few voters to give Mr. Geer the nomination with the idea that Governor Chamberlain could easily defeat him. Had Geer been nominated he would have been elected, however we will admit that Mr. Withycombe will receive several thousand more votes than would have been cast for Mr. Geer.

Is the primary election a success? When were there ever one thousand two hundred Republican voters out to a primary election before in Union county? That tells the whole story.
