JUDGE GARY'S SURPRISE

When Judge Gary, chairman of the Board of Directors of the United States Steel Corporation, went before the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee of the House of Representatives, some very interesting disclosures were expected by those opposing the shipping bill. It had been said that the price of steel plates in the United States was $8 higher than the same plates were delivered for, by American steel makers in foreign shipyards. Judge Gary said that this is incorrect. He further said that not enough American steel ship plates had been delivered abroad in the last five years from the United States to build one modern-sized ship—the sum total amounting to only a very few thousand tons.

This was a staggerer for the bill's opponents. But they rallied by asking him why it was that our steel makers sold their product abroad so much cheaper than it was sold in the domestic market. He pointed out, in a carefully prepared table which he presented, that while there is a less price on the exports of steel than in the price of those consumed at home, the difference is slight. As for instance, steel rails sold in the domestic market for $28 per ton, and the export price, at the American mill is $26.60 per ton. But his greatest surprise was when he pointed out that it is customary for steel makers in every country to sell for export for less than is demanded in the domestic market, England—free trade Great Britain—included. He showed, too, that the disparity in every case between the home and the export price, was greater in foreign countries than in the United States. Again, he showed that the domestic prices in all European countries are higher than in the United States in many products. At the present time there existed what amounted to a parity of prices abroad and at home for steel manufactures of all kinds, because of the very great demand for steel all over the world.

There are two sides to the shipping question: 1 The American. 2 The foreign. Members of Congress will soon have an opportunity to show, by their votes on the Gallinger shipping bill, which side they favor.

The specifications were completed last week for a 350 ton capacity boat to be built by the Open River Transportation company, said boat to run between Celilo and Lewiston. Thus Lewiston's transportation facilities increase.

MADE IN OREGON

The "Made in Oregon" Exposition, to be held in Portland from May 19 to 26, is an unique affair. It is absolutely a free show and everything to be seen during the week, together with all displays, the spectacular features parades, the music, fireworks, etc., will be as open as the streets themselves, which for this occasion will be the center of attraction. The exhibits and displays will be in the display fronts, in almost unbroken lines and unusual liberties will be allowed, the city ordinances being suspended, to allow the crowds to enjoy themselves. Manufacturers of the state representative of the infant industries away from the center of population, will be represented. It promises to be an exhibition that will attract a great deal of attention to the state industries.

Exhibits will be forwarded for the purpose of display, when provision is made in advance for their care, free of freight charges, by the trunk line railroad companies.

NEW AUTO SPEED FIEND.

Paris, April 23. — A new rival to Lancia in the daredevil line has sprung up in Italy and he will pilot one of the new 120 horse power Fiats in the French Club's Grand Prix contest. Two of the cars will be piloted by Lancia and Nazarro. Doctor Weichott, who will be at the wheel of the third, is the new daredevil. He is one of the directors of the Fiat company, and was a witness of the last Vanderbilt race. The doctor has invariably taken part in the Mont. Cenis hill climb. In one of these contests he dashed by Cedrine with one wheel over the edge of a cliff, winning the climb.

CAN'T JUDGE ONE THING BY ANOTHER

"I have tried Osteopathy but it did not do me any good" is a remark one frequently hears from misguided persons who upon close questioning, admit that what they actually tried was not Osteopathy at all but massage. The freest volunteers among lay people who attempt to set limitations upon Osteopathy's powers to heal ordinarily prove to be of this class. It is not sufficient to try other things in order to ascertain what Osteopathy can accomplish. The only real way to learn if Osteopathy will cure is to give it a fair trial under the care and advice of an accredited osteopathic physician. Still, a general idea of this system may be gleaned from talking with patients who are under treatment—only, make sure that you are not talking to those who are trying "something different".
