SELDER, The Candy Man

CLEVER ESCAPE OF PRISONER

(Scripps News Association)

Berlin, May 5—Facts have just come to light which throw a clear light on the clever manner in which a Polish soldier, named Rosinski, escaped from the prison in Rosen. Rosinski was under sentence of death for murdering and robbing a wealthy landowner. The condemned man was guarded most carefully. An armed sentry patrolled the corridor into which the cell of Rosinski opened, and was instructed to keep constant watch on the prisoner's doings through a peephole in the cell door. In spite of all this, Rosinski escaped and for a while it seemed inexplicable how he could do it. Since then, however, a careful investigation has brought to light all the facts in the daring escape.

Rosinski tied his bedclothes and spare body-linen into the shape of a man placed it in the bed, under which he crept. The sentry was thus deceived, and, actually under the guard's eyes Rosinski scraped a hole in the floor, presumably with a nail, which was afterwards discovered. He had found a place where the floor had been repaired and the material used was so soft that he could make a hole large enough to drop through into the cell underneath. This was unoccupied, and the door, consequently, was not locked. Rosinski calmly walked out and reached the courtyard unobserved in the darkness. The wall was too high, but he managed to reach the top with the aid of the window sills and dropped down onto the other side in safety and freedom. His hymn-book was found, covered with blood on the top of the wall.

The sentry had heard a noise in the cell, but fancied it came from the lower tier cells. At three o'clock, however, he called the inspector and the flight was discovered. Although Rosinski wore the uniform of his regiment, the soldiers who secured the surrounding country for many miles were not able to find the slightest trace of the escaped criminal. The police authorities throughout Germany have notified and requested to watch out for the fugitive.

A Severe Cold for Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nusbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00. The 50 cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.
