The sympathy of the coal and wood man is now transferred to the iceman. He is the man to take off your hat to, during the next three months.

Sheriff Brown of Baker county made another semi-occasional raid yesterday and bagged six saloons that were keeping open on Sunday.

There are four cigar factories doing business in this city. If one third of the cigars used, were home made, twice the number of cigar makers would be employed, as at present.

A first class vinegar factory would be the means of giving a market to thousands of pounds of fruit that is now wasted. A factory located in this city means another pay roll. Pay rolls are what we need, remember several small ones are equal to one large one. Never miss an opportunity to secure a payroll.

The sugar beet growers are happy. The factory people have reason to rejoice over the largest acreage ever planted. The completion of the belt electric line means much for the beet industry. The Cove country is an ideal beet section of the valley which has been unavailable on account of lack of transportation facilities. The Cove has land and water, that is all that is required in this valley.

The proposed peace conference at the Hague will not meet before September 20th. This arrangement was agreed to by the other powers at the suggestion of the United States, that the Pan-American Conference at Rio de Janeiro might not be interfered with.

People that live in glass houses should not throw stones. If there is any more mud slinging with a view to damaging the character of the Republican nominee for sheriff, W. W. Randall, who has lived in this country for thirty years and against whom naught can be said, there will be a campaign opened up that will be past the limit of insinuation, but will deal with facts, and plenty of them.

That La Grande is a dirty city no one can deny. A walk through the by-streets and alleys, if you can get through, will convince anyone. Pick up the old tin cans and don't throw your old clothes in the alleys we have seen them all before you are ready to throw them away. Burn up the old clothes and papers, and have it said that La Grande is the "Parlor City" of the Inland Empire. That won't be hard if everyone will do their part. Don't wait for your neighbor to make the start. Commence at once and you will not be alone.

Get embued with the idea that as long as it costs no more, that you are simply helping the community in which you live, to purchase as far as possible whatever is made in your own community. It was fashionable a few years ago to purchase everything possible in some foreign port. That has passed away and it is now the proper thing to purchase American made goods. The leaders of the state have caught the idea that "Made in Oregon" is the proper thing. This is evolution, that builds communities, states and nations.
