DEATH HAS CLAIMED DR. REAVIS

REAVIS—In this city on Wednesday May 9th, 1906, Dr. L. D. Reavis, aged 59 years, 8 months and 25 days, of bright disease.

The funeral arrangements will not be made until tomorrow upon the arrival of his father and brother who reside in Enterprise, and who are now on the way, but it is expected to take place Friday.

Dr. Reavis was born in Missouri and moved to La Grande with his wife who had become his bride a few weeks prior in the summer of 1896. He was always loyal to the best interest of the city and for the past six years has been a member of the city council. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, The Elks, and Masons.

Besides a grief stricken wife and daughter Mildred, aged seven, he leaves a father and several brothers and sisters. Mrs. Wheeler lives in Seattle, Albert in Hood River, Dr. J. L. and Joe in Walla Walla, William in Pendleton, Gilbert and Mrs. Wade of Enterprise.

The unexpected death of Dr. Reavis has cast a gloom over the entire city. While many know he was sick, very few realized or knew anything of the seriousness of his condition. It was on Wednesday evening that he attended a midnight session of the city Council Monday morning he called for one of the proprietors of the Observer, and asked that the true nature of his disease be not made public, as while he realized that the results would in the end prove fatal he thought he could put it off quite awhile.

Up to 11 o'clock last night he stated to those in attendance that he was much better, and that all he needed was a good sleep, and that he would be all right in the morning, and insisted that all leave him and retire. At 12:30 he peacefully passed away without pain.

THE CURE OF HEADACHE

What bone would you pull to treat a headache?" asks a layman. Any bone that may be out of its correct position in the neck or back, so as to bring pressure upon the nerves which express the pain sense—that is, if the headache happens to be due to a bony slip; but, of course, it may not be at all. This is one frequent cause, but there are many others which are apt to be operative. A muscular contraction in the neck, or over the head, may likewise cause headache. Indigestion, eye-strain, mental fatigue, a sluggish liver, constipation, kidney disease, and many other things are frequent causes of headache. Hence the cure of headache osteopathically is the cure of its cause or causes. To find and remedy these causes, having, as they usually do, an anatomical basis, requires special and thorough training, and that is why Osteopathy exists as an independent school of medicine. Its practitioners are specialists. They cure headaches, as they do other diseases, not by "pulling" a bone, unless a bone needs "pulling," but by finding the cause of each headache and giving that cause whatever treatment is needed to cure it. So in a dozen different headaches none might be treated alike osteopathically, and yet ten or eleven of the dozen would likely be cured.

VINEGAR FACTORY ASSURED

There was a splendid attendance last evening at the Commercial Club, which was called for the purpose of meeting with Mr. Ripley to talk over the feasibility of building a large vinegar factory. Mr. Ripley in an informal way told of his investigation of the various fruit sections in Idaho, Oregon and Washington and that he thought Grande Ronde valley offered the best natural inducements of any of the places visited and during the few days that he had been here, was convinced that a factory costing $50,000 which would work up 50,000 bushels of apples annually for which the factory could pay $5 per ton delivered, would be a profitable investment.

He thought it best to organize with a paid up capital stock of $40,000 of which he himself will take $15,000. He demonstrated that he thoroughly understood the business which experience covered several years in such work in Colorado. One half of the stock has already been subscribed and a committee consisting of E. Z. Carbine, L. Oldenberg and Mr. Ireland were appointed to assist Mr. Ripley in the organization of the company and to secure a suitable site. There seems to be no question whatever put that the balance of the stock will be secured this week and work on the plant will commence the latter part of the month.

The factory manufacture vinegar, cider, and wine, possibly jelly and jams.

RICH LOAM

UNION COUNTY

Union County presents to the home seeker a greater number of diversified industries than any county in the state, outside of Multnomah county which is practically Portland.

We do not believe that there is another county in the Inland Empire that can show fourteen different industries whose total annual revenue produces an average of $195,000.00 cash.

The annual report of the State labor Commissioner, places Union County third in the state, in the employment of labor.

It requires 194 solid trains of four tv cars each to carry the produce of our county to the market, more than a train every other day throughout the year.

"An admirable climate." The past winter only for a few hours did the mercury reach zero. No excessive heat in the summer and our cool refreshing nights cannot be appreciated by the residents of the east until they are permitted to enjoy them.

Our soil is rich and productive. Were we to mention fields they would not be believed. The only way to become acquainted with this "Garden of Eden" is to personally visit this land of diversity, as when you see the crops growing and harvested they speak for themselves.

Our forests will require many many decades of the present activity before they begin to yield and we now have thirty or more saw mills which give employment the year round in the mills and logging camps.

The only sugar beet factory in the state is located at La Grande, the County Seat of Union County with a population of 5,000, progressive wide awake people who extend the glad hand to all. This is the commercial, educational and social center of the county.

La Grande is known as the railroad town of the O. R. & N. Co. whose annual payroll at this place exceeds $300,000.00. From here the branch road is now pushing through the northern part of this county, on into the Wallowa County, starts a freight division, machine shops, round houses, and one of the largest railroad yards on the system, and train dispatchers office. The public schools of La Grande are second to none in cities of this size in this state. We now have three buildings and a fourth, an eight room brick building in course of construction, giving employment to twenty-two teachers. The principal office of the Grande Ronde Electric Co. is located in this city. This Company furnishes power and light for the city of La Grande, Island City, Cove, Union, and the Hot Lake Sanitorium.
