AMUSEMENTS

MERCHANT OF VENICE, MAY 24

This play to be given May 24, by the La Grande High School Seniors, has been adapted to those who render it. A good school play by enthusiastic young people is sure to score a hit and there is nothing like dramatics to stimulate school or class enthusiasm. The Seniors are to appear in full costume and are making that careful preparation which is so needful in achieving a successful rendition of any play. A crowded house will undoubtedly greet our young people in this, their first appearance in farce comedy.

ECKHARDT PROVOKES LAUGHS

The Eckhardt's Ideals presented a laughable comedy last evening entitled "A Women in the Case." Every character in the play helped to bring out the many incidents in the story. Tonight the company will present "Under Old Glory."

This military comedy tells a funny yet pathetic story of the Civil war times. It is full of laughs from start to finish, and still has a good plot. All lovers of comedy should attend this performance.

"THE CALIFORNIA GIRLS."

Among the new attractions announced for this season on the burlesque trail, "The California Girls" is the latest addition to this field of amusement.

There are a whole lot of good things, that are quite out of the ordinary, promised with this new candidate for public approval, not the least of which is a living bouquet of feminine beauty and loveliness, which, it is claimed, makes all enchantresses look like soiled duces in a seven-up deck. Then there is said to be a chorus of cultivated female voices that blend in delightful harmony; comedy creations which are productive or the most hearty laughter.

Despite the fact the show is of great magnitude and contains numberless features, the program is arranged so that the acts follow each other in such rapid succession that not an idle second of time occurs from the first rise until the final fall of the curtain.

Prominent in the list of principal entertainers with "The California Girls" are "The 4 Thoroughbreds, The Amatos, Ross and Misses Russell and Wells, Evelyn Fonner." A chorus of thirty beautiful maidens in the latest musical novelties.

THE DIXIE JUBILEES

They are coming with their sweet songs of the Southland, their quaint negro melodies, their camp meeting songs that go home to our hearts. W. C. Buckner, who made the Tennesseans famous is the basso. The seven colored people who compose the company will delight their hearers. Central Church May 9. Tickets and reserved seats at Selders' store.

W. J. Bryan says: "They are fine singers—splendid entertainers."

ATTRACTIVE SURROUNDINGS.

Add to the enjoyment of eating. Our restaurant is run on this principle and our tables, not to speak of our employes are attractive to the eye. Snowy linen, shining silver and glittering glass ware make an appetizing preparation for the good food we serve, and there is when it is placed before you, perfectly cooked and in generous proportions. How we manage to serve such meals at such modest prices, is a mystery to every housekeeper in town.

MARRIED

McNISH—KIRTLEY.—At the residence of Mr. H. G. Scott, Clinton, Mo., at noon, April 30, 1906, Mr. Samuel A. McNish, of Lewisville, Ark., and Miss Grace Darling Kirtley, of La Grande, Oregon, were united in marriage. Rev. Truex speaking the solemn words which bound for life their destinies.

Mr. McNish, who has been for eleven years the editor and proprietor of this paper, is prominent in the business and social circles of this city and holds the responsible position of Financial Secretary of the Arkansas Press Association. He is a native of Nashville, Tennessee, and is a scion of an old and honorable family of the Volunteer State.

The bride is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirtley, of La Grande, Oregon, where she was born and reared, and the many friends of the happy couple in this city, where the bride has many relatives, are glad to know that this Western rose has been transplanted in our genial Southern clime.

This wedding is the culmination of a pretty little romance which began last summer, when Miss Kirtley was the guest of her cousins, Mesdames C. G. DuBose, W. E. Copeland and C. W. Mulkey, and when she departed for her far Western home, carried Editor McNish's heart with her. They met by agreement in Clinton, Mo., and were married on date above mentioned.—LaFayette Recorder.
