Watch for the "dramatis personae" which will appear in these columns a few days prior to the date for the play May 24th.

TREATMENT OF NERVOUS DISEASES

A host of afflictions come naturally in the category of "nervous" diseases; and Osteopathy as naturally provides the rational treatment for all of them, whether it be nervous headache or nervous prostration, the removal of obstructions to the proper distribution of the nerve force and bodily fluids, permitting Nature in the body to act normally, is the rational cure.

Many sufferers may say that they have no deformities that could possibly obstruct circulation; but the fact is that no noticeable deformity is required to cause trouble.
