NEW YORK'S NEW MIDSHIPMAN

(Scripps News Association)
New York, May 18.—The recent preliminary examinations of candidates for appointment as midshipman resulted in the failure of ninety-two candidates and the acceptance of eighty-six candidates. The latter still have to be examined physically. This will go only a small way toward filling the 320 vacancies representing the next fourth class of the Naval Academy, but it is hoped that there will be many candidates who will report on June 19, for the examination to take place at Annapolis. In the meantime those candidates who have been accepted will be granted leave of absence until June 18, when they must report at the Naval Academy to be assigned to duty on the United States steamer, Severn.

A SURE WINNER

Col. F. S. Ivanhoe returned last evening from a ten day's visit in the Wallowa valley. The Colonel is making a vote getting campaign and the result of which will be seen when the final returns come in June 4. His record in this and Wallowa counties is such that there is no reason why he should not receive the vote, not only of every Republican in the District, but also of those Democrats who have the interest of the district at heart and are not blinded by party prejudice. The office of District Attorney is one of such importance to the citizens of this district that they call it afford to make any mistake in the selection of a man to fill this important position. There is no question regarding his qualifications for the office of District Attorney. His many years of active practice in this and Wallowa counties have given him an opportunity to become acquainted with conditions existing in the district, and therefore render valuable services to citizens of the district. Another qualification which should not be lost sight of, is that F. S. Ivanhoe is a good Republican.

ANAEMIA

GIRLHOOD'S SICKNESS

It is easily verifiable in chlorosis, anaemia, (green sickness, as mothers call it), that the patient suffers from greater or less difficulty along the spine, to which all this needless suffering in girlhood is due. It is equally well demonstrated that no system of treatment save Osteopathy pays any attention to these conditions. Osteopaths hunt out these spinal and other deviations from normal healthful anatomy, and remove them by plain common sense, mechanical means, just as you would straighten or replace the wheels of a watch. The blood-making organs are thus let free to resume their work of making blood.

There is no attempt to supply by internal drugs the lacking qualities of the blood, for if once supplied they are soon used up and the patient is where she was before taking. How much better is the Osteopath's way of setting the natural organs of supply into action that the proper quantity and quality of the blood may be maintained in the way Nature designed?

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

A civil suit was heard before Justice of Peace Hough yesterday afternoon between John Stephenson, plaintiff and Harry Lawrence, defendant. As the sum over which the contention arose was $54.90 both parties agreed to hold a jury trial. After several hours of spirited debating and argument between the attorneys, the jury retired and agreed that the defendant should pay the plaintiff $1.40.

The hearing of the case of the State versus Williams was held this morning. The defendant was arrested at Pendleton on a charge of securing money under false pretenses. The trouble arose about four years ago over the sale of some property, among which was a harness and wagon. Chas. Caldwell testified that he had sold a wagon to the defendant but had never received all the pay. Shortly after Mr. Williams had mortgaged property to Fred Jacobs. Now the state holds that the property did not belong to the defendant, and for that reason he should be punished according to law. Attorney J. D. Slater argued for the defence saying that no testimony was given to show that the property in question was the one mortgaged as Mr. Jacobs testified that he had no way of identifying the property, and on the grounds moved for the discharge of the defendant, which was granted by the justice.
