ENGLAND LEARNS LESSON FROM RUSSIA-JAPAN WAR

Will Make Efforts to Render "First Aid" to Wounded Soldiers in a More Efficient Manner

(Scripps News Association)

London, May 19—The British military authorities are seriously considering the suggestion of instructing the soldiers of the British army in the elements of "first aid to the injured". A strong appeal based upon the observations during the Russia-Japanese war, has been made, to bring about some much needed reform in the hospital service of the army and the plan has been warmly supported by many high medical authorities.

At the recent thirty-fifth congress of the German Association of Surgeons, held in Berlin, several interesting details were discussed relating to war surgery. It is generally recognized that modern conditions of war are rendering it more and more difficult for military surgeons to pursue their duties connected with first aid. It is said that the most efficient medical services rendered during the Manchurian campaign were those performed by means of field hospitals erected along the line of various authorities were unanimous in declaring that wounds resulting from shells uncommon for one doctor to attend to one hundred and twenty or more cases.

It is stated that seventy per cent of the soldiers wounded at Mukden had recovered and again resumed duty within three months of the action. This, of course, owing to the comparatively hygienic effects of the unusually small projectile used by the hostile armies. Dr. Schaefer who obtained considerable experience in Manchuria, states that no less than 2,000 wounded were treated in one field hospital, and only ten of these required to undergo operations. It appears to be unanimously agreed by medical authorities throughout the world that the system of first aid instruction now imparted to soldiers has been responsible for saving an enormous number of lives. Formerly many of the wounded were quietly permitted to bleed to death when even a elementary knowledge of anatomy and extemporized surgical appliances would have enabled their comrades to save them.

SPORTS

LA GRANDE VERSUS ELGIN

Tomorrow is the day when our sister city Elgin, will try conclusions at the ball park. Rumors have been making the rounds that Elgin has captured Osborne of the Yellow Kids, and in mentioning the coming game the Elgin Recorder stated last night that their line-up could not be given and prophesied a dark horse would loom up on Sunday. The only plausible inference is that Osborne will pitch. If he does there will be some ball playing as he demonstrated while here with the Yellow Kids that he knew how to throw. The excursion will no doubt bring many rooters from Elgin. The La Grande aggregation has practiced hard and will be ready for nine dark horses if necessary.

The La Grande team will line up about as follows:—Betzal, p; Klebs, c; Siegriest, 1st; Crawford, 2nd; Collins, ss; Childers, 3rd; Kooser, lf; Cotner, cf; Van Buren, rf.

UNION COUNTY

Union County presents to the home seeker a greater number of diversified industries than any county in the state, out side of Multnomah county which is practically Portland.

We do not believe that there is another county in the Inland Empire that can show fourteen different industries whose total annual revenue produces an average of $193,000.00 cash.

The annual report of the State labor Commissioner, places Union County third in the state, in the employment of labor.

It requires 194 solid trains of forty cars each to carry the produce of our county to the market, more than a train every other day throughout the year.

"An admirable climate." The past winter only for a few hours did the mercury reach zero. No excessive heat in the summer and our cool refreshing nights cannot be appreciated by the residents of the east until they are permitted to enjoy them.

Our soil is rich and productive. Were we to mention fields they would not be believed. The only way to become acquainted with this "Garden of Eden" is to personally visit this land of diversity, as when you see the crops growing and harvested they speak for themselves.

Our forests will require many decades of the present activity before they begin to yield and we now have thirty or more saw mills which give employment the year round in the mills and logging camps.

The only sugar beet factory in the state is located at La Grande, the County Seat of Union County with a population of 5,000, progressive wide awake people who extend the glad hand to all. This is the commercial, educational and social center of the county.

La Grande is known as the railroad town of the O. R. & N. Co. whose annual payroll at this place exceeds $300,000.00. From here the branch road is now pushing through the northern part of this county, on into the Wallowa County, starts a freight division, machine shops, round houses, and one of the largest railroad yards on the system, and train dispatchers office. The public schools of La Grande are second to none in cities of this size in this state. We now have three buildings and a fourth, an eight room brick building in course of construction, giving employment to twenty-two teachers. The principal office of the Geande Ronde Electric Co. is located in this city. This Company furnishes power and light for the city of La Grande, Island City, Cove, Union, and the Hot Lake Sanitorium.

COLLEGIANS BEAT BOOSTERS

The W. S. C. defeated the Walla Walla Boosters at the latter's grounds yesterday, 7 to 6. The Farmers lost their heads in the second inning, letting the Boosters bring in six scores on a wild throw and two fumbles, after which they shut out the home team. Batteries—W. S. C., Garret and Fullerton; Boosters, Parks and Lankard.

PLANT WIDE

Nothing saves time better in bush fruit growing than planting wide enough apart to cultivate with a harrow and team instead of a cultivator. When the land is cultivated, less than half the time is taken than by the usual method. This encourages more frequent tillage and consequent increase of crops.

FOR RENT—Furnished four room cottage. Inquire of Mrs. S. C. Zubler, Corner of A. and 7. st.
