PREVENTING APOPLECTIC STROKES

Life and happiness would be conserved if people would resort to Osteopathy before the apoplectic stroke instead of after it. Osteopathic methods equalize bloodflow and relieve congestion of the brain, thereby preventing the unfortunate stroke. Many a life has been saved by this agency.

Osteopathy is likewise very helpful in overcoming the operative causes of apoplexy after the rupture of an artery on the brain has occurred, tending both to prevent recurrence of the damage and at the same time hastening absorption of the clot; yet the ideal treatment is unquestionably prevention.

Why wait till blood vessels degenerate from faulty bodily processes, and permit the work and worries of life to threaten you with congestion in these same unsafe blood vessels, when both conditions may be forestalled and in great measure prevented? The osteopathic physician can relieve cerebral congestion, thus warding off apoplexy, as well as curing less serious things, like insomnia, headache and neurasthenia.

It is all right to talk about beauty habits, but most women are too busy hustling and have no time to cultivate beauty habits. Therefore they take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets
