NATIVE STOCK FIRST

(Observer Special)
Washington D. C. June 13—Taking his cue from the situation developed at the Wenaha forest reserve, in northeastern Oregon, Senator Fulton has set about having such changes made in grazing regulations as will give the stock of the state in which a reserve or part of a reserve is situated, preference over all others. The forest service officials admit that this principle is proper, and gives assurance that it has been the steadfast purpose to work to that end in time, but do not indicate how many years it will require to eliminate the outside sheep.
The senator, after conference with stock interests of his state, feels that this principle should be established at once, without approaching the result over a prolonged period of elimination. He yet hopes that the general rules will be so modified as to give the preference to the state's interests burdened with the reserve withdrawal.

A determined effort is to be made by the Oregon delegation to provide for a careful geological survey, with reference to artesian water, in the great central Oregon region. Senator Fulton took the question up some time ago with the Reclamation officials, but found the rules of this bureau forbid use of the fund for any experimental work, where there is not engineering assurance of success. Since he has been working to have the experiment made by the Geological Survey, from what is known as the general hydrographic fund. Officials of the survey do not want to undertake the boring as they have not so elsewhere, but are ready to make a scientific survey whenever funds will permit, by means of which private capital may be safely guided in boring operations. Important artesian discoveries have been made through these surveys, and the effort will not be to have such a survey made of the central southern Oregon region. The only contingency is the appropriation.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

You cheat yourself when you feed stock or poultry sparingly, when you fertilize soil scantily, when you allow manure to fire fang or be washed by rains in the barnyard, when you plow shallow, cultivate seldom, buy cheap tools, hire cheap labor. These and their kin are the children of false economy, and you pay them well.

Following The Flag

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now in New Hampshire we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Newlin
