KELLEY THE WONDERFUL IS HOME

Dan Kelley the phenomenal athlete who hails from Baker City passed through the city this morning enroute from Spokane where he made what is perhaps the greatest records ever attained by one man. During the Northwestern track meet Saturday in one day he equalled the world's record in the hundred yard dash, ran the 220 yards in the wonderful time of 21:1-5, and sailed through the air for 25 feet 9 1/4 inches in the broad jump.

HUG HOME TOO

Geo. Hug of Elgin who has been with the Multnomah Athletic club and who won laurels in the weights as a team mate to Kelly at the big meet, returned this morning and went to his home in Elgin.

WATCH FOR IT

The business men who are to participate in the big game next Wednesday are playing premature games in their offices. Clerks are telling each other what they intend to do and those who are not so fortunate as to be eligible are standing quietly back but thinking hard. Here will be a chance to see the most interesting game of the season, from a local standpoint, and should draw a large crowd. Game called at four o'clock. The line-up will be announced tomorrow.

A STRONG COMBINATION

W. A. Maxwell, editor fisherman and policeman of Union, was in the city Monday with a supply of well assorted fish stories which he was anxious to dispose of at less than cost. In speaking of the Scout Mr. Maxwell said that the old parmal had never been in as prosperous a condition as it is at present, since he first took hold of it in 1862. The Scout he says is gaining in popularity all of the time and that a number of new subscribers are added every week. The most surprising thing about the fast increase is that a majority of these new subscribers cannot read. When questioned regarding the cause of all of the excitement he said that he could not account for it that the subscribers just came to him, that he could not drive them away. There is, however, a well founded rumor that when come to, each may solve the riddle. Maxwell is the city marshal at Union and is not very bashful about arresting a man. When he sights a possible victim, one who tarries long at the wine, he will call him to one side and ask him if it isn't about time to subscribe for the "Scout." You know the rest, it is either take the paper or go to jail. How could any man under the circumstances be so hard hearted as to refuse. One man, it is said, subscribed eight times in one night, other from two to five. Of course these are only rumors, but there is a whole lot of smoke to not be a spark of fire somewhere. According to the editor's own tale, the circulation of the Scout is increasing and until some better cause is assigned for it, the public will usually accept the above as true.

MINES CONSUMED BY FIRE

(Scripps News Association)
El Paso, Texas, June 25—Forest fires threaten to destroy the Magdalen and Senora mines. Employers are fleeing for safety of their lives.

The flames have rapidly driven out the miners and the loss to mining companies alone is very high. The fire is uncontrollable and many Indian villages are already destroyed.

MAYOR INDICTED FOR ELECTION FRAUDS

(Scripps News Association)
Portland June 25—J. W. Reed, mayor of Estocada, was indicted this morning by the Grand Jury for complicity in election frauds. He is charged with having voted under an assumed name.
