GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Seldom has it fallen to the lot of a couple to be permitted to celebrate in so happy a manner as were Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Taal who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Tuesday afternoon.

The anniversary celebration was fittingly begun at noon on Tuesday when the family, which included children, grandchildren and great grandchildren gathered around the family table and partook of a turkey dinner, the equal of which is seldom prepared. The picture presented at this joyful board was indeed one of beauty and love. At the head of the table was seated the gray haired old gentleman, who fifty years ago had proudly led to the altar the bright eyed rosy cheeked young lady, where they had vowed to remain ever true to each other for better or for worse, though illness and health, now seated at his side. Though many years had passed over them, and in passing, had whitened their locks and dimmed the eye, still they presided at their accustomed places with all their old time grace. And it was evident that father Taal had lost none of the art with which he had carved in the days when it was thought a disgrace not to be able to carve in royal style.

At this anniversary dinner were gathered the entire Taal family, with but one exception, one brother, Wm. Taal, who from business necessity was in a neighboring state. Four generations were represented. The fourth generation being represented in the persons of little Miss Ella and Baby Bess Scriber, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Scriber.

In the afternoon an informal reception was held which was attended by the many friends of the celebrating couple. The home was beautifully decorated with flowers. The color scheme being gold; everywhere the beautiful goldenrod and California poppies were in evidence. The dining room was especially beautiful with the many and artfully arranged decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Taal received many handsome tokens of remembrance at the hands of the guests, one of the most acceptable of which was a beautiful loving cup, the gift of Grandma Palmer, who though past ninety-three years of age was able to attend the reception. One other present which should be mentioned was the elegant golden oak china closet which was presented by the Taal children.

The guests as they arrived were received by Mrs. Marie Conditt and Mrs. Bess Scriber who presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Taal, who were seated under an arch, typical of the occasion, composed of Goldenrod and California poppies. The guests were then invited to the dining room where Mrs. Ella Rhynearson and Mrs. Conaries Taal, assisted at the side board, by Mrs. G. G. Taal and Mrs. Nellie Harrison served dainty refreshments.

One of the many delightful features of the occasion was the arrangement of the dining room, and the decorations of the tables. One table was set with old ivory and another with cut glass making a most delightful and pleasing effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Taal are well known and honored pioneers of this valley having been constant residents of Union county, the greater part of which time reside in La Grande for the past thirty years. The following is the list of children and grandchildren and great grand children: Mrs. Ella Rhynearson, Charles F. Taal, Mrs. Marie Conditt, Mrs. Nellie Harrison Garrett G. Taal, Fred B. Taal, Wm. M. Taal. The grand children are Mrs. Bess Scriber, George Rhynearson, Master Harold Taal, and the great grand children are little Miss Ella and baby Bess Scriber.

If possible, the the Passenger Department of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company and Southern Pacific (Lines in Oregon) has surpassed itself in 1906 issue of its new publication, "Oregon, Washington, Idaho and their reserves."

The purpose of the publication is to attract homeseekers and investors to the Pacific Northwest and this publication is undoubtedly the best messenger that could be sent by residents of Oregon, Washington and Idaho to their friends in the East and Middle West.

Beautiful half tones, printed on superb book paper, make the publication, which contains 88 pages and a map of the section, a work of art, but far superior to the typographical make-up is the contents of the book. Under many heads covering practically all the resources of the states are short, pithy stories of what has been accomplished, not what might be done, but actual facts and figures accompanied by names and addresses of well known farmers, who are daily laying aside an income that would be a fortune to an Eastern Agriculturist.

Wm. McMurray, General Passenger Agent of the O. R. & N. Co. and S. P. Lines in Oregon has favored the editor with a copy of this publication and referred him that readers of this paper by sending the names and addresses of friends in the East and four cents in postage for each address, may have the book promptly mailed to the address given.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

ECZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH-ITCHING INTENSE

Eczema is a tormenting, stubborn disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and lands of the skin. The acid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is in evidence. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and fever, it often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotions etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.

S.S.S.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood, cleanses the circulation of all acids and humors, builds up the thin, sour blood and by removing every vestige of the cause cures Eczema permanently. The irritating eruptions disappear, the itching and burning cease, and the acidified skin, being fed by a fresh, cooling stream of blood, becomes soft and smooth again. S. S. S. is made of healing, purifying, roots, herbs and barks that will not damage any part of the system. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free.
